MEDALLIC WASHINGTONIA

All of the following were struck well over seventy-five years ago; some go back to 1789. None are of modern manufacture; none are available in quantity. Almost all are listed in the Medallie Portraits of Washington, by W. S. Baker, published in 1885. This rare standard work currently sells from $50 to $100, (when available), but will shortly be reprinted, and a new, revised text is being prepared by the Fulda. Exactly a century ago, this series was the most popular in American numismatics. We anticipate renewed interest in it and other authentic runs of early American medals, when the current speculative interest in contemporary medallie art begins to die, as die it will, when the speculators tire of selling to each other. What we offer herewith is genuinely scarce or rare, and, by current false standards, grossly underpriced.

- Washington Inaugural Buttons. 1789. Heraldic eagle, sun above; around, MARCH THE FOURTH 1789 MEMORABLE ERA. Brass; with original shank. DeWitt GW 1789-4. Very Fine; sharper than the DeWitt illustration. Dark, traces of granular corrosion; but still one of the cleanest examples of this rarity we have seen. Ex Bauer coll. $225.00
- Similar. (1789) GW at center, the letters raised in a depressed oval; around, above, in a semi-circular channel, LONG LIVE THE PRESIDENT, in raised letters. Copper; original shank remounted. 34mm (as is the last). DeWitt GW 1789-7. Fine and bold, but mishandled; a few light bruises and dents towards the upper r. hand side of the obverse. Obviously worn to celebrate the installation of our first President. and, of the greatest historical value, together with its companion piece above 185.00
- Robinson's Washington "Cent." 1789. Military bust l. Rev. Neatly executed heraldic eagle and scroll. Copper. Baker 14. A dull, iridescent red-olive Proof. A fabrication, circa 1863, by A. S. Robinson of Hartford, Conn. Always popular; hardly common! 27.50
- Siege of Boston Medalet. Copper; 31 mm. Second impression from corrected dies, with plain edge. Baker 50a (p. 31). Bronzed Proof, minute obv. rim flaw (as made). Ex Hall, Brand 9.00
- Manly Medal. 1790. First and original obverse. Bronze. Baker 61. Name of publisher erased (as issued), but a sharp, well struck example of this famous piece. Strictly VF, some signs of rim mishandling. Made by Samuel Brooks of Philadelphia for J. Manly, in March, 1790, the original selling price $2.00. Possibly the first Washington medal made in the U. S. 35.00
- George Washington of Va. (1860) Military bust to r. Rev. Pyramid of 15 cannon balls, two crossed swords below; double line legend around. Copper; 34 mm. Struck upon a flan 4 1/2 mm thick. Allegedly Baker 63, the excessively rare "original" of this medal, without period under "L" of GENL (reverse), struck in Baltimore during the peak of interest in Washingtonia, at the commencement of the Civil War. (See Appleton, 16.) Lustrous red Unc. From the celebrated Brand coll., and of the greatest rarity. 125.00
- Similar. Restrike in brass (ca. 1833). Period under "L" of GENL; advanced indications of die rust, and striations from die polishing. A Proof, struck upon a flan slightly thicker than that of the last. Baker 64. Only 21 struck, the dies then destroyed. RRR 67.50
- Twigg Medal. (1790-95) Military bust to r. TWIGG on truncation. Rev. Nine line inscription. Tin; 36 mm. Baker 65. Unc., the obverse brilliant. A magnificent piece! 37.50
- Wyon Medal. (1797-99) Military bust to l. WYON on truncation. Rev. Nine line inscription. Tin; 37 mm. Baker 66. EF and lustrous, but with spots of corrosion. Not as beautiful as the last, but much, much rarer. High auction records, a century ago! 42.50
- Repub. Ameri. "Penny." 1796. Civil bust to r. WYON on truncation. First obverse; GEORGE WASHINGTON around. Rev. Scroll, cannon, fasces and caduceus within circle at center; three line legend around. Bronze; 33 mm. Baker 68. Very Fine or so; shows signs of wear and handling. Dalton & Hamer consider this piece a token that circulated, and since many specimens seen show evidence of use, they may have a case. It is slightly larger and thicker than the (1795) Washington LIBERTY & SECURITY Penny. 37.50
- Halliday Medal. (1800-01) Civil bust to r. HALLIDAY S. on truncation. Around; GEORGE WASHINGTON PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES. Rev. A draped Brand, Boyd colls., among others, of early Washingtonia), and certainly not the worse of the three. RRR. 137.50
- pedestal, upon which rests fasces and a sword encircled by a olive wreath; around, COMMISSION RESIGNED: PRESIDENCY RELINQUISHED; 1797 in exergue. Bronze; 53 mm. Baker 70 (Very rare). EF or better, but with one minor and one severe reverse rim bruise (the result of some fool dropping it). Undoubtedly one of the most artistic and rare contemporary Washington medals, produced by Halliday, a well known engraver of Birmingham, England. Ex Brand coll. Only the third we have handled in the last eleven years (which encompasses the Garvan, Raymond, Sansom Medal — Third dies. Bronze; 46 mm. Baker 73. Almost Perfect. The second of two Philadelphia Mint reproductions of the last, circa 1859-60. Dies in the American Numismatic Society. 8.50

AMERICAN NUMISMATIC ASSOCIATION

The American Numismatic Association is the largest and most active numismatic body in the world. It invites and welcomes to membership all worthy persons seventeen years of age or over, who have a sincere interest in numismatics, whether they collect coins, paper money, tokens or medals, whether advanced collectors or only those generally interested in the subject without being collectors. The Association was founded in 1891, and has over 24,000 members from every state in the Union and many foreign countries. It is incorporated in the District of Columbia and is a mutual organization for the benefit of its members.

All Association members, except Associate, receive the official publication, The Numismatist, without cost other than their annual dues. Membership applications should be accompanied by $5.00 for the first year's dues and $2.00 admittance fee. Annual dues are $5.00. Nonmember subscription, $6.00. Single copy, fifty cents. For application blanks, subscriptions or general information, write to the General Secretary.

The Numismatist is an illustrated monthly which has been issued continuously since its founding in 1888, consists of 128 pages or more in each number and has subscribers in about sixty countries. Advertising inquiries should be sent to the Advertising Manager. All other matters for possible publication in or concerning The Numismatist are to be forwarded to the Editor. Unsolicited manuscripts, which are sent at the owner's risk, and other correspondence calling for a reply must be accompanied by stamped, self-addressed envelopes. Opinions expressed in articles published in The Numismatist are those of the authors and do not necessarily represent the views of the American Numismatic Association or the Editor.

the coins of Trajan, when the Roman Emperor gave a King to the Parthians, we must allow the aptness of the term.

In addition to the vivid illustrations of history and general civilization which they convey, the coins of Greece and Rome form in themselves a complete history of art; from its earliest development to the highest excellence it attained in the greatest age of Grecian or Roman splendor; some coins of that period presenting workmanship unsurpassed in beauty by sculpture on a larger scale.

We may trace on the Roman series the gradual decline of art with the decay of the Empire, until with the complete prostration of Roman power in the West art became nearly extinct. It is by studying a collection of Roman and Grecian coins such as we have recently had the pleasure of examining through the kindness, and in possession of Mr. William I. Prescott, that the importance of this kind of learning is understood; for it is almost alone in such a field that any satisfactory information concerning the religion, the civilization and social life of ancient races can be acquired.

Vanity or prejudice may have influenced the historian, but the record which we find inscribed upon a coin may be safely taken for a fact; consequently the great value of ancient coins is in the pictures which they give us of ancient life, and in the number of facts which they contain. It is from them that we learn how the great men and women of antiquity looked, and if we would see true and undoubted representatives of their altars and temples, their bridges and ships, their galleys, with tier upon tier of oars, their gladiators and the vast amphitheaters in which they fought; in short, if we would see illustrations of public and private life as it existed in the distant past, we can look for them nowhere but on coins.

Various Collections.

The great and various interest and general attractiveness of the study of ancient coins began to be perceived with the revival of learning in the fifteenth century, and small collections were made at this early period; the first on record being that of the celebrated Petrarch, who eventually presented it to the Emperor of Germany.

Next, Alphonso King of Naples, collected coins from all parts of Italy. The great Cosmo de Medici perceived the interest of these beautiful and important monuments of antiquity, and commenced a cabinet which formed the nucleus of the present magnificent Florentine collection. Matthias Corvinus, King of Hungary, also formed a collection of medals about this period.

Francis I. of France laid the foundation of the great French collection, now one of the finest in Europe, and likely to remain so, unless surpassed by that of England, which of late years has devoted both talent and pecuniary aid to this most important science. The foundation of the present magnificent National collection of England was laid in 1753, by the donation of Sir Hans Sloane of his coins and other antiquities. The collection of coin in our National Mint was commenced in June, 1838, and now numbers upward of 25,000 pieces. The Russian collection, although of modern formation, contains nearly 15,000 coins. The Madrid collection in 1870 contained 2,672 gold coins, 30,692 silver, and 51,186 of copper. That of Vienna is much more extensive, containing 24,112 Greek coins in all metals, 30,902 Roman, and 38,000 of the Middle Ages.

Like many of the useful inventions of man, the precise date of the origin of coined money is lost in obscurity. Gold and silver were used as a medium of exchange long before they appeared in the form of coin. From Biblical history we learn that Abraham returned from Egypt "very rich in cattle, silver and gold;" this was according to the commonly received computation 1,918 years before the Christian era. But to the Greeks must be accorded the honor of the first coinage, which was inaugurated by them about 800 years before the Christian era, and Rome followed a few centuries after with the finest metallic history that the world has ever produced.

The coins of the Kings of Egypt, viz.: Ptolemy Pater, Ptolemy Philadelphus, Ptolemy the Benefactor and Ptolemy Philopater, and those of Syria, Parthia, Sassanidae, Bactria, Persia, Sicily, Macedonia and Pontus were all of types indicating an elevated position in art and civilization.

During the Middle, or "Dark Ages," when learning and art were at their lowest ebb and no consecutive series remained except the rude and almost autonomous coins of the Eastern remnant of the Roman Empire, then termed

LAFCADIO HEARN ON NUMISMATICS

By

H. F. BOWKER

IT WILL perhaps come as a great surprise to many to learn that among the many subjects to which Lafcadio Hearn put his pen was that of numismatics. Many of his early writings may be of a "potboiler" category, and perhaps this is one such, but it deserves reprinting in a numismatic publication if only because of his enduring fame.

Hearn was born on the Isle of Santa Maura, Ionian Archipelago, Greece, on June 27, 1850, and died in Nishi Okubo, Tokyo, Japan, September 26, 1904. He became a Japanese subject and assumed the Japanese family name of his wife and the Japanese name Yakumo Koizumi after their marriage.

During the years 1872-1875 he was employed as a reporter on the Cincinnati Daily Enquirer, for which he wrote some one hundred thirty-five articles on as many subjects, the ninety-seventh being that quoted herewith, which appeared in that newspaper on Sunday, October 11, 1874:

NUMISMATICS.

A Glance at Ancient Specie.

Short Sketch of Famous Collections.

Mr. Prescott's Array of Valuable Coins.

Comparatively few persons have any conception of the magnitude and attraction of the science of numismatics. Many volumes have been well and eloquently written on the interest of this study of coins, from the time of Petrarch to the present day, and yet the number of those who have sought amusement and instruction in that pursuit is small now, as it always has been. As historical records, coins have proved themselves of great importance; their value as testimony commences with the infancy of the art of coinage. The Greeks were the first to adopt an extensive circulating medium in this form, and on the coins of the very earliest period we find records of the migrations, the mythology, the customs, and the civilization in general of this ancient people.

Greek Coins.

In the late coins of the Greek series history is illustrated with more distinctness; those metallic monuments with the names and portraits of the great Alexander, of Ptolemy, of Seleucius, still fresh upon them as when they were minted, open up a vast and striking picture of that age of giants, and bear testimony to the truth of all the records which have come down to us. They have also, by the indefatigable research and learning of eminent numismatists brought to light other events of which no written records existed. Such, for instance, as the Greek dependency in Bactria—a nearly complete series of the coins of the Greek Princes of that portion of Asia having been recently discovered, restoring to the world a lost history and possibly the means of deciphering a lost language—some of the inscriptions on this important series being bilingual.

Roman Coins.

But the Roman series, which rose on the ruins of that of Greece, is, perhaps, more interesting than any other; at all events, it has been the most studied, and it may, from the number of undoubted portraits, and from the variety of great events recorded on it, be considered of the greatest historical importance and interest. Addison calls the Roman coinage a sort of "State Gazette," on which all the truly great events of the Empire were periodically published; and when we find such announcements as Egypta Capta on the coins of Augustus, struck upon the conquest of Egypt; Judaea Capta on those of Vespasian, issued when Judea was subjugated; or Rex Parthius datus on Byzantine, and the new, peculiar and bold but rude Gothic coins, the gradual development of which may be traced in the coinage of modern Europe from the seventh to the fourteenth century, the field of the numismatician is limited and comparatively uninteresting. It is not until Anglo-Saxon, Anglo-Norman and English series that he is enabled to again pursue his labor intelligently and with satisfaction.

The coins of England, from the monarchy of Egbert, A.D. 800-837, to that of Harold II., in 1066, and those of the Anglo-Norman Kings, from William I., or Conqueror, in 1066, to Henry III., 1272, and then the Kings and Queens to Victoria, 1837, including the Commonwealth and Protectorate of Oliver Cromwell, together with the coinage of all the modern civilized nations, can be obtained in an almost unbroken series from their foundation to the present time.

The first coinage in this country was the Sommers Island piece, in 1612, then the New England pieces. They were rude, circular pieces of silver, quite thin, and often made from pieces of worn plate, with a punch-mark or indentation bearing the letters N. E. on one side, and XII., VI. or III. on the other at the upper-center of the piece. They were issued about the year 1650.

Then followed the pine-tree and oak-tree money in 1652; then a series of private, State and National coinage, embracing the coins of Lord Baltimore, elephant pieces of New England, Carolina, and the London elephant piece; Pitt tokens, Wood money, Rosa Americanas, Auctori Plebis, French Colonials for Louisiana, Danish American pieces, immunis Columbia, Voce Populi, Washington cents, Continental currency, Franklin cents, and the issues of the States of Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, New Jersey, New York, Virginia and Kentucky.

Previous to the establishment of the United States Mint a few coins were struck from silver furnished by President Washington, and bore the portrait of Martha Washington on the obverse and the value — disme and half-disme — on the reverse, with the legend, "United States of America," with the date 1792. In 1791 and 1792 there were pieces issued bearing the head of Washington on the obverse and "one cent" on the reverse; also the W. half-dollar and a half-cent of similar design, but they are all considered as pattern-pieces by collectors, and, being very rare, command extremely high prices. The establishment of the United States Mint took place in 1793, in which year only cents and half-cents were coined. The first silver coins were issued in 1794 — dollars and half-dollars, and in 1795 the first gold coinage occurred of eagles and half-eagles, since which time the Mint has annually issued coins of several denominations, but with many changes in design and marked improvement in workmanship to the present time.

The Prescott Collection.

The collection of Mr. Wm. I. Prescott, previously referred to, contains coins of all ages and periods from 600 before the Christian era to the present time, prominent among which are the rude Roman Aes and its subdivisions, the Semis, Triens, Quadrans, Sextans and Unica, which are about 600 before the Christian era, the Consular or Family coins of Republican Rome, in silver, and the Aes and its subdivisions, in a reduced size in copper, to the time of Pompey the Great, followed by the familiar names of Julius, Augustus, Octavius, Lepidus, Brutus, Cassius, Marc Antony, Marcus Agrippa, Tiberius, Drusus, sen., Drusus, jun., Antonia, Germanicus, Agrippina, Caligula, Claudius, Nero, Galba, Otho, Vitellius, Vespasian, Titus, Domitian, Nerva, Trajan, Hadrian, Antoninus, Pius, Marcus Aurelius, Lucius, Verus, Commodus, Clodius Albinus, Pertinax, Didius, Julianus, who purchased the Empire of Rome from the soldiers, at public auction from the ramparts, and reigned only sixty-six days; Septimus Severus, and through an almost and unbroken series to Romulus Augustus, the last of the Emperors of the West, who was deposed by Odoacer in 475 A.D.; thence by the Emperors of the East to Constantine XIII., in 1453, this set numbering one hundred and ninety-six different names and portraits of Emperors and Empresses.

The Grecian coinage is fairly represented by about two hundred pieces, among which are the productions of the mints of Alexander, Phillip, Sycion, Milos, Thurium, Carthage, Metapontum, Corinth, Sparta, Tarentum, Antioch, Samos, Vellia, Zanele, Panormus, Syracuse, Sicily, and many other of the ancient Greek cities and provinces.

His coins of England commencing with the Northumberland Styeaes of Enread in 840 A. D., to Victoria, including the pieces of William the Conqueror, Stephen I., Henry I., II., III., IV., V., VI., VII. and VIII., the Edwards, Richard the I., II. and III.; Queens Anna, Mary and Elizabeth; Oliver Cromwell, and the Commonwealth of England, at which time she approached nearest to a republican form of Government, are in a fine state of preservation, and nearly complete.

France, Spain, Russia, Prussia, Austria, Italy, Sardinia, Lombardy, Switzerland, East and West Indies, the colonies of England, Holland, Denmark and France, Portugal, China, Japan, Modern Rome and Greece, India, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Holland, Turkey, Belgium, Morocco, Egypt, Turkey, Hungary, Liberia, Sierra Leone, Java, Burmah, Siam, Sandwich Islands. The many mints of Germany, Mexico, Central America and South America are all well represented and in fine preservation.

A collection of nearly five hundred English tokens, bearing the dates of 1791-96, are remarkable for their extraordinary fine condition, many of them being proofs, and all are far above the usual standard of condition in which these pieces are usually found. A surprisingly well-preserved series of the United States cents and half-cents forms one of the gems of this collection, and they are particularly noticeable because the most difficult collection to be found complete in a fine condition is that of this country.

His medals represent a medallic history of persons, events and dates that will bear comparison with any in the West.

NATIONAL COIN WEEK, APRIL 28 - MAY 5

T'is about that time! Your plans should be formulated. Each member should be given an assignment to make National Coin Week, 1962 the best ever. Display your coins and paper currency — let your townspeople "get in" on our wonderful hobby.

Your exhibit cards, entry blanks, etc. were mailed out Feb. 1 and you should have them now. If additional materials are needed, please write for more and I will forward the day I get your request.

If anyone desires to enter as an individual, he must make a request direct to me. Mailings were forwarded to Clubs only.

The Governor of Texas has proclaimed National Coin Week for Texans. Contact your mayor for the proclamation in your city. Usually they are most pleased to do so. Have that picture made and use it to good advantage. Secure the proclamation from your governor also.

All entries must be postmarked not later than May 23, 1962 and sent to the Awards Chairman, Harry L. Kent, 401 West 26, Austin, Texas.

I am looking forward to a beautiful group of scrapbooks again this year. It is most interesting to see the manner in which you give so much time and talent. It's a real pleasure for me.

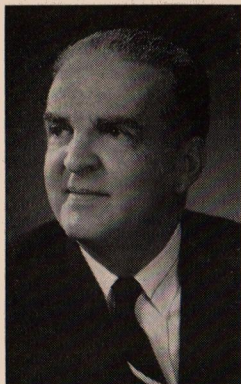

My best wishes to you and yours for National Coin Week 1962.

— DOLLY-MAUDE HARRIS
General Chairman
National Coin Week, 1962

DON SHERER IS GENERAL SECRETARY

President C. C. Shroyer has announced that Don O. Sherer, 52, of Phoenix, Ariz., was appointed General Secretary of the American Numismatic Association by the Executive Board at a special meeting in

Don Sherer

Chicago, March 2 and 3. He will serve out the remainder of the term of the late Lewis M. Reagan, who died December 29, 1961. Sherer was named Assistant to the General Secretary in 1959 and comes to his new post well qualified.

Head of the firm of Don Sherer and Associates Real Estate Investments in Phoenix, the new General Secretary was born in Spokane, Wash., and started his working career as a Kansas City, Mo., office boy. He has served in such responsible positions as General Traffic Manager of the Folger Coffee Company; as liaison man between the Goodyear Rubber Corporation, the U. S. Navy and prime contractors during World War II; and in personnel and operations work with the Phoenix Valley Bank.

Sherer has had a wide and varied experience with organized numismatics following his initiation as President of the host club to the 1951 A.N.A. convention in Phoenix. He was a member of the A.N.A. Board of Governors for five years, member of the A.N.A. Election Committees in 1951 and 1953, member of the A.N.A. Resolutions Committee in 1953 and member of the A.N.A. Convention Papers Committee, 1952 and 1953, and National Coin Week Chairman in 1954.

The new General Secretary's wife, Helen, frequently accompanies him on his numismatic trips, and both are proud of their family. Their daughter Ann is Mrs. Eugene Cunningham of Salinas, Cal., and the mother of the first Sherer grandchild, Keith Randall, born December 20. An only son, David Randall Sherer, was married December 30 in Fresno, Cal.

In the future all correspondence pertaining to General Secretary's office should be addressed to 3520 N. 7th Street, Phoenix 14, Arizona.

Nickel in Coinage — Nickel is in many ways the ideal metal for coinage, and is the only metal that has proved satisfactory for coinage in its pure state. It is also the only widely used addition in modern times to the list of classical coinage metals.

In addition to nickel's resistance to corrosion and wear, it is readily fabricated and has excellent mechanical properties. Besides such specific coinage advantages as color and ease of striking, pure nickel has the added quality of being magnetic, and therefore difficult to counterfeit. Furthermore, its intrinsic value is in line with the minor denomination coins for which it is employed.

In recent years, more than 5,000,000 pounds of nickel have been used annually for coinage, or about one per cent of the world's present nickel consumption for all purposes. — Inco Nickel Topics, XIV, 8.

New Method for Coin Analysis: X-ray Fluorescence

By

H. C. CHITWOOD AND Q. QUICK

Summary

THE NEED for a nondestructive method of coin analysis has long been recognized by numismatists and students of metallurgy who are interested in relating metallic composition of coins to different times in history and to different localities. An important application of such knowledge is in the detection of forgeries.

The only nondestructive method known to have been applied previously is neutron activation analysis.¹ This method is useful only for the determination of traces of certain metals and requires the services of a highly specialized technical expert.

A new method of analysis based on X-ray fluorescence was investigated briefly to determine its limitations and approximate range of accuracy, and the scope of its usefulness in problems related to ancient bronzes. A number of genuine ancient Roman brass and bronze coins, Paduan copies, and outright forgeries were examined by this technique. In two cases comparison was made between uncleaned and cleaned specimens.

It was demonstrated that X-ray fluorescence affords a quick nondestructive analytical method which is particularly useful for comparative purposes and which can be made quantitative to give absolute values if the apparatus is calibrated with suitable standards. In some cases forgeries can be detected by this means; but those made from contemporary metal, e.g., from authentic coins, obviously cannot.

General use of the method is limited by the high cost of the equipment which at present is available in only a few industrial and academic laboratories. A further limiting feature of X-ray fluorescence is that it measures the composition of a thin layer of the surface rather than average total composition.

Description of the Procedure

The equipment employed in this investigation was the Norelco X-ray spectrograph. A collimated beam of X-rays (Tungsten Target—50 KV and 35 ma.) is allowed to strike one face of the coin; these in turn cause the emission of fluorescent X-rays whose wavelength is characteristic of elements contained, and whose intensity can be related to alloy composition. The conventional sample holder was modified to accommodate the various coins studied. A disk of pure copper was employed to adjust instrumental sensitivity. Minor peaks were obtained from the scintillation counter with a scale factor of thirty-two; with major peaks, e.g., copper, a scale factor of one hundred twenty-eight was employed.

From the curves thus obtained it was found, with the major constituents, that a fairly close linear correlation existed between the line intensity of the element as compared with the total intensity reflected from the specimen and the weight percentage of that element as determined by conventional wet chemical analysis. This technique² can be considered to give results which should be nearly quantitative for the major constituents and, for those minor uncalibrated constituents, should be accurate on a relative basis and internally consistent. The method could be made completely quantitative if the apparatus were calibrated by the use of similar alloys of accurately known total composition.

In all cases measurements were made on coin reverses since they were generally more nearly planar than the obverses. In most cases, coins with moderate patination were used without cleaning. In one case (sesterius of Nero) the coin was cleaned before examination, and in two cases measurements were made before and after cleaning the coins. The Paduan copies and the forgeries were all lightly patinated; none of these was cleaned. The results of the study are shown in the accompanying table.

The Paduan copies and forgeries for this work were supplied through the courtesy of Henry Grunthal of the American Numismatic Society. Miss Joan Fagerlie, Roman Curator of the Society, verified the "genuine" coins as such. The authors wish to acknowledge also the aid of A. E. Gabany who conducted the measurements.

Conclusions

Of the coins examined all but one were of ancient or medieval type alloys, and all contained iron and nickel characteristic of early metallurgical operations. Surprising were the findings of small amounts of barium in a forgery and mercury in a Paduan. The genuine and false sestertii of the early Roman Empire examined were of very similar composition. This suggests that the false coins were contemporary forgeries or that they were made from ancient metal, i.e., early coins reworked. The Paduan sestertii were of a distinctly different composition and should be classed as bronze rather than brass. They are low in zinc but contain more tin and lead than the original coins. In addition, all contained trace amounts of silver.

A modern forgery of a dupondius of Augustus was composed mostly of copper with arsenic and antimony (probably contained in the arsenic) added. This gave a very yellow alloy resembling brass.

The chemical processes associated with aging which build up a surface coated with oxides and salts change the metallic composition of the surface from that of the bulk. Zinc tends to be leached from the surface while tin, lead, and especially iron are concentrated in the corrosion layer or patina.

It can be seen from these findings that some coins can be proved to be forgeries but that others will escape detection by this type of examination. On the basis of the small number of samples studied, however, the method appears to distinguish between Paduan and genuine specimens.

Numismatic Vignettes

■ Most collectors know why there is no fixed relationship between mintage figures and the prices of various coins, yet we just answered an inquiry on that subject. In looking for examples of coins with nearly the same coinage but different prices — due largely to varying demands — the following were noted. Prices quoted are from the fifteenth edition of the "Red Book" for uncirculated coins: 1914-D cent, $310; 1883-S double eagle, $80; 1875-S twenty cents, $36; 1893-S silver dollar, $125. Also, based on quantity minted, the 1850-O silver dollar should be thirty times the price of the 1893-S, or $3750; but it's only $65. And the 1883 five cent piece without CENTS, now $4, should be about three times the price of the same date with CENTS, which is now exactly four times higher than the no CENTS variety. Can't someone get Congress to repeal this law of supply and demand, and thus eliminate all confusion?

■ The living thing most often depicted on money is the eagle — except, of course, Homo Sapiens, the "wise animal." The ancient Greeks placed the eagle on many coins, from an incuse one in flight on a coin of Croton, about 500 B.C., through the Ptolemaic series from 323 B.C. on through the reign of Cleopatra, 50-30 B.C. It is a well known device on the coins of modern times of many countries, and also on that modern substitute for money produced by printing presses. The PhilaMatic Center at Boys Town has an extensive display of eagles on bank notes and paper money.

■ It is a maxim that ignorance of the law is no excuse for violating it. There are many laws in this country — local, state and federal — and few persons know all of them. Fortunately, there is no multitude of little known laws which relate to coin collecting and numismatics, yet we saw three violations of federal laws in the last couple of weeks. We feel sure that they were unintentional, but violations just the same.

First, a Los Angeles newspaper published a picture of a misprinted $100 Federal Reserve note in almost the exact size of the note itself. Pictures of paper money, government bonds, etc., may be published for educational or news purposes, provided the pictures are less than three-fourths or more than one and one-half times the size of the genuine item.

Second, a young numismatist was jubilant over his success with making plastic slides of current U.S. coins. While his intent was commendable, he may be subject to a heavy fine according to Title 18, U.S. Code, Section 488.

Third, local coin club publication quoted verbatim a short item from a copyrighted numismatic publication. True, it gave the name (but not the exact name) of the source publication. But the law states that permission must be secured from the holder of the copyright before reprinting such material.

Of course, we are not looking for trouble, and hope that no one else is, either. But it is a good idea to play safe by checking the legal and ethical aspects of any out of the ordinary numismatic activity. You won't need to hire a lawyer because your Secret Service agent will be glad to answer questions about laws relating to money. He is a fine fellow and always anxious to help you keep out of trouble. Incidentally, this item was checked with the Secret Service agent in Chicago before being submitted. We had a nice visit — but more about that later.

By

S. W. FREEMAN, LM 366

WHEN I see Gus (The Hummer) ride by in a big black car, smoking a cigar, also black, I wonder no little. The last I hear of Gus, he's in safekeeping and is to remain in such for a year and some.

I am about to go into Joe's pool hall for a little game of "Pea Pool" when I see the big black job coming again. It pulls up to the curb and Gus motions me over. He asks do I see Louie around? I tell him I do not see Louie for a week or more, so he drives off looking unhappy and certainly not humming. Now it is well known that Gus is not the best of company when he does not hum, so I am not sorry he goes.

Some say Gus was framed, some say he played it dumb, but a few say Louie puts the finger on Gus at the D.A.'s office, naming him as "the party of the first part" in a certain little deal involving a variety of "parties of the second part" known in court circles as "plaintiffs." I do not know of this deal except it oozed a little fraud around the edges. What I am knowing is that Gus and Louie were in it together, thicker than three in a bed.

After Gus drives off I am being in no mood for pool, so I buy a nickel's worth of late news and ease into the corner bar and grille for a bowl of stew. This I find is as hot as hobo coffee, so I give the front page a quick once over. As I turn the page my eyes come to a bug-eyed focus on Gus (The Hummer), under which reads "Released from Prison." The account is as follows:

"Our city's most colorful and skilled confidence man, Gus (The Hummer) Broomenhauf, was released on parole today after serving three and one-half years of a five-year term. He was convicted of selling stock in the nonexistent Tri-Y Construction Company who allegedly was to construct a Y-shaped bridge across Sludge River at the confluence of Dross Creek. It was brought out in the trial that all purchasers of ten shares of stock were given a token inscribed "Life Pass — Tri-Y Bridge." At the time of The Hummer's arrest, his life long friend, Louis Amencio, was questioned, but released on lack of evidence.

"An interesting development issued from the lengthy trial. The City Planning Commission found this mythical bridge to be highly needed. At this time drawings are complete and when matching funds are available, a contract is to be let. No name has been mentioned for the span, but odds down at City Hall are ten to one on 'Tri-Y.'

"A more recent side interest has developed. The phony bridge tokens are being eagerly sought by some members of a token and medal society. Currently a classified ad appears in our columns in which a small quantity of these tokens are offered for sale by L. A. — Box 69, Terminal P. O."

On the way to the Terminal P. O. I am thinking of what handy means I might be using to extract a few tokens from L. A. I am likewise thinking should The Hummer locate Louie, any mail now in Box 69 might thereafter remain uncalled for.

A couple of guys are loitering in front of the P. O. I loiter best sitting, so I drop part of The Evening Astonisher on the second step and assume position for such occasion. The rush hour is over so it is easy to keep tab on the traffic, in and out. For an hour nothing of interest passes except a couple of dames in shorts, and I wonder do I sit out a long wait. This is not the case as just then The Hummer and Louie pull up. Louie gets out and starts up the steps. He sees me and stops and asks me to go shoot the breeze with Gus while he gets his mail. Well now, at seeing Gus and Louie pleasantly in company, I am so surprised as to be also speechless. I do not say more to Louie than O. K. and move to the car.

The Hummer seems in fine spirits and says I should get in the back seat and relax. I get in, but relax about as much as the spring on an eight day clock with a week to go. The Hummer for the moment is wound up also and is asking questions so fast he doesn't wait for answers.

When Louie gets back in the car, I see he puts a batch of mail in the glove compartment. He tells me that he and Gus are going out to Nick's Road House for a steak and to discuss future plans. He also says he and Gus are in need of a helper for one of their projects and I had been discussed as a likely man for the job. If I would be interested in the particulars, I would be welcome as their guest. All the way to Nick's, Gus is humming tunes so southern I can smell the magnolias in the back seat, so I gather whatever plans he and Louie discuss will center somewhat south of Baltimore.

At Nick's we are seated in a small private room and Louie places our order. Then he gives out with a great deal of oral composition, the meat of which is that Gus, having paid his debt to society, is now dedicated to become a more honorable man than his mother ever dreamed he'd be. In keeping with this, a syndicate of Southern business men, of unquestioned integrity and unhampered resources, having heard of The Hummer's great native ability as a promoter with a slight knowledge of bridges, have approached him to supervise the sale of bonds for the construction of a causeway. This causeway is to be twelve miles in length and to cross that many miles of swamps, bayous and sloughs, each end to connect with heavily traveled U. S. highways. When completed, it will eliminate some fifty miles of curves and narrow bridges and, being privately owned, could be so tolled as to retire the bonds in fifteen years.

All of this sounds good, but I ask where I come into the picture? Louie says I don't enter this picture at all, but in a picture of local color. Whereupon he asks did I hear of the little token venture he had fallen into? I tell him I just learn that one L. A. is accepting orders by mail for bridge tokens, and if he is being L. A. then I am knowing somewhat about the venture, but as the tokens are in short supply, this particular venture must soon become unventuresome. This he says is where I am dead wrong, as quite by happenstance, he and The Hummer are in possession of the dies from which more tokens are being made.

Louie further says that as he and The Hummer work as a promotion team, it is urgent that they leave at once to confer with the Southern gentlemen to see that acceptable terms are assured before starting the "Operation Causeway." This being the case, a manager must be found to continue the token enterprise which has grown to substantial interest. The duties of this manager would be quite simple. He must fill all orders and deposit all income daily in an account at the Cross Town National. For this small service the manager would receive twenty-five percent of the deposits, payable at the end of each week.

The arrangement sounds perfect and I am at liberty, so to speak. I am liking the part about banking at the Cross Town. That is where my brother-in-law, Willie, works as a teller and maybe as a daily depositor I might be more acceptable to his sight and the quarter cut of the cabbage is more than I had expected.

I tell Louie that if he and Gus are looking for a man of ability, imbued with a deep sense of loyalty and without fear of hard work, then look no further. Gus stops eating long enough to grunt, but Louie, being more polished, wipes his hand on the tablecloth and shakes, saying to Gus, "We've found our man."

The next morning Louie meets me at the P. O. where he extracts a batch of mail and we drive over to his flat where he shows me how to prepare the orders for mailing. We then load the packaging material and the remainder of the tokens in his car and drop them off at my apartment on the way to the bank.

At the bank Louie makes me acquainted with one of the V.P.'s and arranges for me to draw a draft on the account for twenty-five percent of the amount I deposit each week. We then walk toward the tellers windows. Willie sees us coming and gets busy with whatever tellers busy themselves with when not busy. Louie makes a deposit to some account at another window and cashes a check also. He hands me fifty bucks which is a draw against my percentage. Louie also gives me the key to the mail box and a card showing the address of the Eagle Stamping and Die Works where I am to pick up a thousand shiny new tokens next Monday. He then wishes me luck and leaves to meet The Hummer and head south.

The next few days are routine, going to the P. O., mailing orders and depositing the money which has come in even larger lumps than I had hoped for. There was still enough time for a few games of "Nine Ball" at Joe's each afternoon.

Saturday I wake up early and am anxious to make my final deposit of the week and dip into the sugar. It's the little woman's day off, so I leave her sleep and walk to the Greek's around the corner for a stack of wheat and a cup of java.

The waitress is serving me my cakes and pouring my second cup of coffee. She says she sees in the paper that they finally are going to build the bridge. I am pouring syrup on my cakes and just to be pleasant, I ask what bridge? "Are you kiddin," she says, "The Tri-Y bridge, what else?" She moves off to wait on another customer before the impact of these words sink in. I jump up and stumble to the cashier where I snatch up a paper and return to my table.

There it was, black as sin and twice as bold. "Bridge Contract Let." "Span Named Tri-Y by Vote of Council." I read further:

"At a special meeting held yesterday afternoon in the Mayor's office, the city council voted unanimously on the Tri-Y as the name for the bridge the contract for which was awarded the low bidder at the letting earlier in the day.

"The name was opposed by the Mayor who brought out the fact that the name had been dragged through the courts and if used now would bring considerable criticism plus the fact that tokens bearing the name were reported to be in evidence. The council then prepared a legal notice for publication in which it was stated that no Tri-Y passes in the form of tokens were valid and that further manufacture, sale or distribution of said tokens would hereafter be unlawful."

A.N.A. Slide Sets Available

23. Coins and Early Christianity

All slides are 2" x 2" and can be shown with standard projectors on ordinary screens. However, the plastic slides are thicker than others, being a maximum thickness of $\frac{1}{8}$ inch. Lecture or commentary notes accompany each set, describing each slide in the set.

There are no fees other than transportation costs. The sets are sent via Railway Express Collect and returned or forwarded from one club to another via prepaid express. (BECAUSE OF BREAKAGE SLIDES ARE NOT SENT THROUGH THE MAIL.) Round trip express charges average about $5.00.

When ordering slides give exact dates of meeting, exact address (express shipments to post office boxes are delayed) and specify alternate choices. Sets must be requested at least three weeks in advance of showing, and may be reserved for as much as a year ahead. Only one slide set may be reserved for each meeting.

For reservations or further information, please write to: Michael M. Dolnick, Custodian of Slides, 6720 North Seeley Ave., Chicago 45, Ill.

WHERE CONFEDERATE MONEY WAS PRINTED IN RICHMOND

This is the Richmond, Va., printing plant where Confederate paper money was made, according to the legend on back of the picture. It is supposedly a Mathew Brady photograph. Robert McNamara of Cleveland's Heraldic Art Co., owner of the photo, says he has not turned a plate press in the last twenty years but estimates the roll sizes to be eight inches in diameter and twenty-one inches in length, bed sizes to be twenty-one by twenty-five inches and maximum plate sizes to be twenty by twenty-four inches, with approximate production of about sixty to seventy-five sheets an hour. There are about twenty-four plate presses in the shop.

Skagway, Alaska, Bingles

Skagway in 1898 was a prosperous town with a population of 15,000 to 20,000, now dwindled to about 500. The name is a native word said to mean "home of the North Wind." It is a beautiful place in its setting of towering, snow-clad peaks and glittering glaciers. From here the eager gold seekers entered the Klondike by way of the White Pass.

In its heyday Skagway had many saloons, dance halls, and gambling houses, one of which was the Board of Trade owned by Lee Guthrie. He issued 12½¢ tokens and possibly other denominations not yet unearthed.

The Board of Trade had many famous (and infamous) customers. One we are told, was "Soapy" Smith, a notorious man in the early days. When he could spare time from his own saloon, Jeff Smith's Parlor, he would often gamble in the Board of Trade. Another, we understand, was Robert W. Service, the famous poet, who stopped in Skagway a short time on his way to the gold fields. He was said to have had very little money and would watch the gambling machines for the bartender when he was busy at the far end of the bar, in exchange for a drink.

Among other Skagway tokens is one from the Pack Train Inn Saloon, the only bar in Skagway of the gold rush days still in use. Another is the token from the Mascotte Saloon. That location was later occupied by Perry Hern's Skagway Drug Co., which also used bingles.

We appreciate the assistance of Mel Roher of New York City in writing this. — KAYE AND NANCY DETHRIDGE

U. S. ASSAY COMMISSION, 1962

The 1962 Assay Commission Medal

Among the seventeen members and the three ex-officio members of the Annual Assay Commission meeting February 14, 1962, at the Philadelphia Mint, several were prominent in the numismatic field. The latter included Numismatist Advertising Manager S. Wolcott Freeman, A.N.A. Librarian John J. Gabarron, Samuel J. Burgdorf, Melvin E. Came, Dr. John S. Davenport, Louis Eliasberg, Jr., Thomas B. Sprague.

The Commission, appointed each year to examine samples of silver coins struck at U.S. Mints the previous calendar year, has met annually since the early days of U.S. coinage.

Committees on assaying, counting and weighing were formed and spent several hours on their assigned duties. Reports brought in at the day's end indicated all coins were well within the tolerances established by law and all coinage was very satisfactory.

The medal, which is given to all commission members except those who are Federal employees, is shown above. The reverse is similar to that of last year but bust of President Kennedy replaces that of Thomas Jefferson on last year's obverse. Members also receive a commission signed by the President but had to pay their own expenses to the meeting.

Prominent Government officials present were Miss Eva B. Adams, Director of the Mint; Michael Sura, Superintendent of the Philadelphia Mint; Thomas J. Clary, Judge of the District Court for Eastern Pennsylvania; James J. Saxon, Comptroller of the Currency; Howard F. Johnson, Assayer; Senator A. Willis Robertson; Paul J. Dowd, Assayer; Frank E. Campbell, Asst. Superintendent of the Philadelphia Mint; Robert A. Wallace, Asst. Secretary of the Treasury.

Obituaries

DR. JESSE W. SPROWLS, A.N.A. NO. 27227

Dr. Jesse W. Sprowls, 74, Hyattsville, Md., died December 13, 1961, in Prince George General Hospital. He was a professor of psychology at the University of Maryland for more than thirty years, prior to which he taught at Bethany College, the University of Vermont, University of Tennessee, and St. John's College, Annapolis, Md. He graduated from Valparaiso University in 1910 and received his doctorate from Clark University in 1919.

Dr. Sprowls was the author of Social Psychology Interpreted and Popular Psychology, and contributed to journals of education and psychology. He conducted a radio program, "Psychologically Speaking," for a time and also wrote a syndicated newspaper column for ten years. He was founder of the Adelphi (Md.) Citizens Association, a member of Kappa Alpha fraternity, and associated with the Recreation Department of Prince George County, Md.

He became interested in numismatics in his later years and attended many conventions, especially after his retirement in 1957. He collected paper currency and gold and silver dollars, having extensive collections of the latter.

His wife passed away in 1957. Surviving are two brothers, Royal of Brownsville, Pa., and Glenn of Claysville, Pa.; two sisters, Miss Laura of Claysville, and Ethel Huston of St. Petersburg, Florida, and many nephews and nieces. — HLE

ROBERT G. BECHTEL, LM 365

Robert G. Bechtel, 44, Peoria, Ill., died suddenly in his home February 1, 1962, of an apparent heart attack. He was a native Peorian but lived in Alhambra, Cal., for fifteen years prior to 1934, when he returned to Peoria. An Air Force veteran of World War II, he was a member of Peoria Post No. 2, American Legion.

"Bob" Bechtel was well known in Central Illinois as an ardent numismatist, having been active in the Peoria District Coin Club and owner of the coin shop which bore his name at 537 Main St. He became a member of A.N.A. in 1957 and was admitted to life membership three years later. The Peoria Club, of which he was a Past President, has taken action to establish a permanent Bob Bechtel Award in his memory, to be given for the best-in-show exhibit each year at the Club's annual show.

In addition to his widow, Mary, he is survived by two daughters, Mary Louise and Margaret Ann; his mother who resides in El Dorado, Mo.; and two sisters in Peoria. — MAB

GEORGE WALTON, LM 229

Word has been received that George Walton, 55, Box 32, Charlotte 1, N. C. was killed in a head-on auto crash near Middlesex, N. C., March 9. The well known collector, owner of one of the 1913 Liberty five cent pieces and other rarities, was a frequent exhibitor at national and regional conventions as well as at local gatherings. Reports state he was on his way to Wilson for a coin meeting and had his collection with him.

A.N.A. - C.N.A. Combined Convention

LADIES DAY IN DETROIT

Families coming with dad to the combined American and Canadian national numismatic convention August 15-18, will find Detroit a family convention city. Within easy reach of the convention hotel is Detroit Institute of Arts, one of the country's great museums. Also nearby is Hudson's, one of the world's largest retail stores, twenty-five stories high and with four basement levels.

Available by motor car or bus is the Ford Rotunda, gateway to the Ford plant and famed for its colorful displays of automobile research. The Cranbrook Institute, a few miles from Detroit, includes a famous Academy of Art, Institute of Science, and Planetarium all on three hundred acres of beautiful park and gardens.

Planning exciting adventures for ladies, young people, and children at the combined A.N.A.-C.N.A. Detroit convention are: seated, left to right, Mrs. Charles Hoskins, Medals Committee; Mrs. Pierre Palmentier, Banquet Committee; Mrs. Ben Stocker, Chairman for Ladies Activities; standing, Miss Helen Bernauer, Registration Committee; Mrs. Henry Burns, Hospitality Committee. Not included: Mrs. Marjorie Schilling, Co-chairman for Ladies Activities and Mrs. Charles Gonzales, Registration Chairman.

Across the "busiest waterway in the world" — the Detroit River — is the friendly Canadian neighbor city of Windsor with many excellent restaurants and shops featuring fine linens, furs, china, and English woolsens.

For the convention the Ladies' Hospitality Committee with Mrs. Ben Stocker and Mrs. Marjorie Schilling as Co-Chairmen, plans many exciting events. On August 16 buses will take the ladies to the Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village at nearby Dearborn, one of America's best known tourist attractions. Here, on a two hundred acre setting, Henry Ford assembled a magnificent collection of Americana depicting life in the United States from Colonial days to modern times. Also planned for women and children is a trip to the Detroit zoo, widely known for its rare and unusual animals.

Detroit is justly famous for its fine restaurants. A ladies' luncheon is planned on August 18 at one of the more interesting dining establishments. Before and after sightseeing and luncheon trips and individual shopping adventures, ladies may sip coffee with friends they have not seen since the Atlanta or Boston or earlier conventions in the Ladies' Hospitality Lounge.

Due to the demand for rooms the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel states available space is going fast. General Chairman Earl Schill advises those who desire accommodations at the convention hotel to make their reservations soon. Send requests for rooms to Lawrence Thiery, Sales Dept., Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel, Detroit. He will confirm reservations if received early.

A nine-year-old girl, while playing hide and seek with her brother, found a jar of 288 gold coins near Cairo, Egypt. Archaeologists speculate it may be part of the treasure of one of the caliphs about the Tenth Century A.D.

The A.N.A. and Its Presidents

TEAM BEHIND THE PRESIDENT, 1912-1913

By

JACK W. OGILVIE, LM 93, HISTORIAN

The granting of the Federal Charter climaxed an era in the history of the American Numismatic Association. It brought to a close the building of the organization from Dr. Heath's "baby" to an Association, not only national but international in prominence, with its official magazine the leading numismatic publication of the time. In existence for twenty-one years, it had reached its majority in prestige, yet was a mere infant in numerical strength when compared to present day membership.

No one member, officer or President was entirely responsible for its successful record. Dr. Heath, its founder with an ideal, perhaps was the most instrumental in achieving this result. When not the leader, he was a member of a team dedicated to carry out the aims and purposes of the Association. After his untimely death, Zerbe, the scholar and showman, became the leader, then Henderson, the parliamentarian, followed by Brenner, the business man. Behind these and other eminent Presidents was a team of men which diligently put into effect the program of the organization. These Editors, writers and officers, although well qualified, never quite reached the pinnacle of officialdom. Many of their names have appeared as assigned to certain committees, elected to certain offices, or having written certain articles. Some will be mentioned again in future stories of the Association. Others have modestly declined credit for their share of glory. It would be impossible to name each and every one of these dedicated gentlemen but the following is a representative list with a brief summary of their contributions during the building era of the A.N.A.

EDGAR H. ADAMS, No. 785. A Board member, writer and Associate Editor, then Editor of The Numismatist. His outstanding contributions included articles on store cards, private gold and pattern coins in addition to doing an excellent job of editing the official magazine.

WILLIAM A. ASHBROOK, No. 930 and Honorary. A Board member and chiefly responsible for securing the Federal Charter.

HENRY CHAPMAN, No. 18. Served on the Board on three occasions. This Philadelphia dealer and numismatic scholar was always ready to lend a helping hand with the affairs of the organization.

AXEL DE LAGERBERG, No. 1014. A Board member, Associate Editor and writer. Contributed many articles dealing with medals and coins of Scandinavian countries.

WILLIAM F. DUNHAM, No. 361. Chairman of the Board for one term but best remembered for his awards to persons sponsoring the most members into the organization from 1911 until 1914.

JEREMIAH GIBBS, No. 272. The first person to be elected Second Vice President, served six years. He is credited with many articles about the half pennies and tokens of his native Canada.

LYMAN H. LOW, No. 51. A Board member, writer, speaker and authority on Hard Times tokens. This New York dealer was highly regarded for his sage advice.

ROBERT W. MC LACHLIN, No. 121. Served as Second, then First Vice President for several years. Known as Canada's foremost collector. Wrote many papers on numerous subjects, many of which he read at conventions he attended.

GEORGE W. RICE, No. 53. An early Secretary, Board member and Associate Editor. Contributed many papers and series of articles to the official magazine.

BURTON H. SAXTON, No. 921. Well remembered in recent years as Editor and Advertising Manager of The Numismatist until his death in 1958. In earlier years he was active on many committees, served as Second, then First Vice President and once declined to run for President.

WILLIAM W. C. WILSON, No. 899 and Honorary. A First Vice President in 1910. Became a benefactor when he bought and presented The Numismatist to the Association.

HOWLAND WOOD, No. 93. The last alphabetically but the most prominent of the group. He was son-in-law of William T. R. Marvin, who was for years Editor of the American Journal of Numismatics and, perhaps, gained his basic knowledge from this great scholar. The pupil went on to become known as "The Greatest Authority on Modern Coinage." His decision on the attribution of a coin was accepted by his fellow numismatists as final. His many enlightening papers started appearing in The Numismatist in 1902 and continued for many years thereafter. He was Associate Editor of the magazine from 1908 until 1913.

He entered the official family in 1905 as Secretary and served until he became Chairman of the Board in 1908. The following year he became a Board member and served until 1912. He was one of the first persons to attempt to straighten out the complexities of grading circulated coins. He served on many committees and was usually deeply involved in the affairs of the organization. Wood's activities in the A.N.A. were greatly curtailed when the American Numismatic Society acquired the services of this great scholar as a salaried employe in 1913. As Curator, he was near the coins he loved and lived with. He remained as such until his death in 1938.

In recent years, the A.N.A. has instituted the Howland Wood Memorial Award as grand prize for the most outstanding exhibit at the annual convention. This award is given in his memory and as a tribute to his many contributions to the science of numismatics.

FROM THE GENERAL SECRETARY'S DESK

Don Sherer was appointed A.N.A. General Secretary to fill out the unexpired term of the late Lewis M. Reagan. Until further notice, all mail to the General Secretary should be sent to his office, 3520 N. 7th St., Phoenix 14, Ariz.

Among other actions taken by the Board of Governors at a meeting on March 2-3 were the following:

Honorary membership in the American Numismatic Association was given to Miss Eva B. Adams, Director of the Mint.

A resolution was adopted that the Association goes on record as endorsing the plan outlined by Sol Kaplan for the A.N.A. — Lewis M. Reagan Memorial Foundation, and that a committee be appointed by President Shroyer to work out details with Kaplan and his associates. A.N.A. Governor Charles M. Johnson was appointed to confer with Kaplan and present plans for the Foundation at the Board meeting to be held in Milwaukee in May.

Contributions should be made payable to Lewis M. Reagan Memorial Fund and sent to Sol Kaplan, 413 Race St., Cincinnati 2, Ohio.

Four Medals of Merit were voted for presentation at the 1962 convention in Detroit.

Effective immediately, the fee for the A.N.A. life membership is increased to $150.

Glenn B. Smedley accepted appointment as Assistant to the General Secretary, in addition to his other duties.

Fractional Currency Shield

By

JAMES J. CURTO, A.N.A. No. 9641

MOST collectors have heard of the fractional currency shield but relatively few have ever had the opportunity to see and study one. Very little has been written about it, the various publications on fractional currency or currency devote only a paragraph or so to it. Apparently the only method to learn about it is to interview a fractional currency specialist. The following information was obtained in just such a manner, from interviewing Dr. Frank A. Limpert of Royal Oak, Mich., one of the country's foremost authorities on the subject.

The background of a fractional currency shield is a heavy cardboard mat approximately 19½" x 23½" in size bearing the design in an overall color of a large shield with bars, surmounted by a large heraldic eagle with stars above it, together with a streamer bearing the motto E PLURIBUS UNUM. Within the outlines of the shield are superimposed specimens of the obverses and reverses of all of the major varieties of fractional currency notes issued in the first three series. These specimen notes were printed on one side only. A total of twenty obverses and nineteen reverses, both green backs and red backs, are on the shield.

These shields, framed in wood and with a glass front, were prepared by the United States Treasury Department in 1866-67 under the supervision of General F. E. Spinner, Treasurer of the United States. They were sold to banks throughout the country to assist in the detection of counterfeit fractional notes. The cost of a shield to a bank at that time was the sum of the face value of the notes on the shield, $4.66, plus a nominal charge for the materials and the labor of the assembly, for a grand total of approximately $7.50.

There are three color varieties: the shield with a pale green background, known as the green shield; that with a pale red background, known as the red shield; one with a gray background, known as the gray shield. In addition to the color variations, there are two important varieties of the gray shield in reference to the signatures on the 15¢ Grant and Sherman essays*.

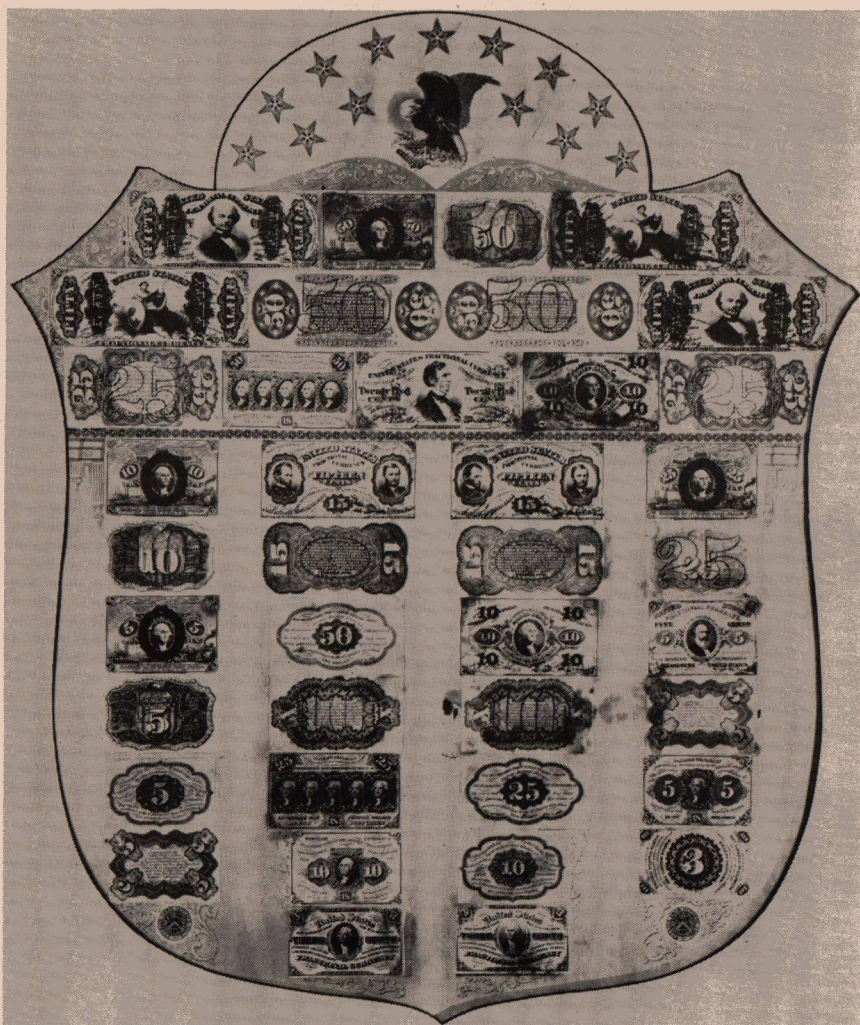

The reason for the three color varieties, according to a report given to me, recollected only as taken from an early auction catalog, was that the green shields were made for U. S. depository banks, red for state chartered banks and the gray for national banks. Another explanation given me was that the color variations were to allow banks a choice of colors in shields to harmonize with the color scheme of its intended surroundings. The first explanation or a pattern similar thereto seems to be a more plausible reason for the color variations.

All of the green and red shields contained two obverses of the 15¢ Grant and Sherman essay note, one with printed signatures and the other with autographed signatures of S. B. Colby and F. E. Spinner, register and Treasurer respectively. Only a few of the gray shields are known with similar signatures on the 15¢ Grant and Sherman note, evidently only the very early ones. All of the other gray shields carry the two obverses of the 15¢ Grant and Sherman essay notes with the printed signatures of S. B. Colby and F. E. Spinner, and the autographed signatures of N. L. Jeffries and F. E. Spinner.

*The Paper Money Catalogue, Part II, 1954, by Wayte Raymond Inc. lists a 15¢ Grant and Sherman specimen note signed by Allison and Spinner with narrow margin from a shield. This would make another variety of shield if the said note actually was taken from a shield.

Dr. Limpert reports having once owned a 15¢ Grant and Sherman specimen with autographed signatures of Jno. C. New and F. E. Spinner. He believes it was a courtesy note, signed for a friend after the shields were produced.

James J. Curto, Grosse Pointe, Mich., hardly needs to be introduced to regular readers as he is the author of about a couple of dozen numismatic papers published in The Numismatist.

This shield does not show the notes in the usual arrangement but is a rarity in that it shows four errors. In the normal shield, denominations range from the highest at the top to the lowest on the bottom. In the one pictured above, the 10¢ in the third row is up with the notes of 25¢ and 50¢, the 50¢ is out of place on the sixth line, the 5¢ reverse and obverse on the eighth line are at odds with the usual pattern in that the obverse is normally at left and reverse to right. (From the Delwyn J. Worthington collection.)

All shields with the 15¢ Grant and Sherman essay notes, signed by Colby and Spinner, are very rare, the green shield being the earliest or first issue and rarest, the red shield being the second issue and the next rarest, the gray shield being the third issue and third rarest. (This statement is not to be construed, however, to mean that the variety of the gray shield with the 15¢ Grant and Sherman essay note signed by Jeffries and Spinner is not also rare, for it is, but to a slightly lesser extent.)

Without exception, all shields contain obverse specimens of the 50¢ Liberty Seated or Justice note, the 50¢ Spinner note and the 10¢, third issue note with both printed and autographed Spinner signatures. While a standard was evidently set up as to the correct position of each note on these shields, this standard was not strictly adhered to, for shields have been noted with some notes out of the standard position.

It is said that Spinner was the first to employ women in the Treasury Department and that the preparation of these shields was their first assignment. Under such exciting circumstances, overlooking the variance in the position of a note or two on the shield is readily and easily understandable.

The usual arrangement of specimen notes on the fractional currency shield is as follows:

50¢ Spinner, auto. sigs.	50¢ Washington, Second Issue.	50¢ Reverse, Second Issue.	50¢ Justice, auto. sigs.
50¢ Justice, eng. sigs.	50¢ Reverse (red) Third Issue.	50¢ Rev. (green) Third Issue.	50¢ Spinner, eng. sigs.
25¢ Fes. Rx., green.	50¢ First Issue, green.	25¢ Fessenden, Third Issue.	50¢ Rx., First Issue.
			25¢ Fes. Rx., red
10¢ Washington, Second Issue.	15¢ G&S. auto. sigs.	15¢ G&S. eng. sigs.	25¢ Washington, Second Issue.
10¢ Rx., (green), Second Issue.	15¢ G&S Rx., (red)	15¢ G&S Rx., (green)	25¢ Rx., purple, Second Issue
5¢ Washington, Second Issue.	10¢ 3rd. Issue, auto. sigs.	10¢ Third Issue, eng. sigs.	5¢ Clark, Third Issue.
5¢ Rx., (green), Second Issue.	10¢ Rx., (red) Third Issue.	10¢ Rx., (green) Third Issue.	5¢ Rx., (red), Third Issue.
5¢ Jefferson, First Issue.	25¢ (brown), First Issue.	25¢ Reverse, First Issue.	5¢ Reverse, First Issue.

	3¢ Washington, Dark Curtain, Third Issue.	3¢ Washington, Light Curtain, Third Issue.

The symbol for a pound sterling is a contraction of the word "libra," a pound. The contraction was originally to the letters "lib," the usual mark of abbreviation, a dash or line over the letters being used to signify the contracted form of the word. In dotting the "i" a careless or rapid writer would sometimes, as many modern writers do, make the dot more or less in the form of a dash or short line. Thus "lib" came to have two strokes or dashes, one for the abbreviation and the other to represent the dot of the "i." By and by the "i" was dropped as unnecessary and the word stood as "lb" but the two strokes were retained. This was found to interfere with the "lb," the symbol used for a pound weight, which had only one dash for the abbreviation, and so the "b" was omitted where the mark meant money. The two dashes or strokes were, however, perpetuated, and the symbol with its crosses is now known all over the world as the symbol of an English pound sterling. — E. Edwards, Words, Facts and Phrases, J. B. Lippincott Co., 1912.

A Tribute to Lewis M. Reagan

The American Numismatic Association suffered a profound loss on December 29th, 1961, when word was flashed that Lewis M. Reagan, General Secretary for nearly two decades, died from cancer after an illness of two months. Everyone in numismatics was deeply shocked to learn that Lew was no longer with us.

Under his guidance and administration the A.N.A. grew from less than four thousand to more than twenty-five thousand members and became the greatest numismatic organization in the world. He was the wheelhorse of the executive team of officers. All of his colleagues looked to him for counsel and direction. He never failed them. No one in the history of A.N.A. has ever been held in higher esteem by his associates.

Lew Reagan was known to every numismatist of any consequence, not only as Mr. Secretary, but, also, as a scholar and an authority on many phases of numismatics. He appeared before many clubs and at countless regional conventions, giving advice on organization activities and speaking on purely numismatic subjects. He was the image of a true and devoted numismatist without thought of profit to himself.

Although clothed with great power and authority, Lew was quiet and unassuming in the discharge of his duties. He was most skillful in the handling of the many problems that confronted the Association during the hectic years of fast expansion. When the best interests of the Association required it, he stood firm and unyielding against the pressures and powerful forces that developed with the explosive growth of the organization. He was a trouble-shooter and diplomat par excellence.

Yes, we are all going to miss Lew in the immediate years to come, even though, with his usual wisdom and foresight, he had trained an assistant to replace him in case of his own disability to serve. A.N.A. will long remember Lew Reagan, General Secretary. — HERBERT M. BERGEN, Second Vice President, in January, 1962, A.N.A. Officers' Bulletin

NOTES & QUERIES

Central States Convention May 4-6 in Milwaukee

Erv Gerber and his committees report they are ready for the influx of collectors and dealers expected at the Hotel Pfister in Milwaukee for a big numismatic weekend May 4-6. They advise making hotel reservations immediately as latecomers may have to be housed in nearby hotels.

All bourse space has been reserved for some time. James Kelly of Dayton, Ohio, will hold the auction, with coins; Canadian material; tokens; and miscellaneous. To be in competition, exhibits must be placed by 2 p.m. Friday and not removed before noon Sunday. The Committee's address is P. O. Box 5495, Milwaukee 11, Wis.

At the Saturday evening banquet in the Milwaukee Athletic Club, which is only two blocks from the Pfister, the outcome of the election of officers will be announced. Also, winners of exhibit awards will be named and certificates presented. The award medals will be presented Sunday noon. The ladies are promised a trip along our beautiful lake front and a luncheon at one of Milwaukee's famous dining spots.

A beautiful medal is being struck in four metals and will be sold at the convention or by mail in accordance with our advertisements. Collectors from far and near are invited to participate in this convention, which is always one of the outstanding numismatic events of the year.

CSNS medal

sessions Friday evening at 7:00 and Saturday at 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. Kelly has rounded up a good variety of choice and popular material, including ancient, gold, foreign and U. S. coins; paper money; rolls; and Canadian items.

Society members will compete in the exhibits for first, second and third place award medals. There will be twelve exhibit classes, including U. S. coins (except gold); foreign coins before 1500; those after 1500; U. S. paper money since 1860; all other paper money (except Canadian); medals and orders; misstruck and misprinted money; odd and curious; all gold

MANA Journal's Editorial Change

George L. Cheeseman, 11952 Andrew St., Silver Spring, Md., is the new Editor of The MANA Journal, official quarterly publication of the Middle Atlantic Numismatic Association. He succeeds Herbert J. Shaner, Jr., Wheaton, Ill., who resigned for business reasons. Of him Dr. Conway A. Bolt, MANA President, said "Many have remarked during the year that Mr. Shaner was the 'best Editor that we ever had.' He was always eager and willing to work and assist me with many of the problems that were unfamiliar to me."

The new Editor has been associated with commercial art and display work for over twenty years. During part of that time he served as Editor of a community newspaper and wrote articles, technical papers and instructional material in connection with his work.

B. A. Seaby, Ltd., London Recent Victim of Burglary

One of the very rare coins taken from B. A. Seaby, Ltd., 65, Great Portland St., London W. 1, England, in the recent burglary of that firm was the Canadian pattern dollar of 1911. A large number of gold coins and other pieces were also stolen. If any reader has information that might be useful, he is asked to communicate with his police chief or the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Numismatic Errors Group Has New Secretary, Editor

Everett Jewett, 2530 Thomas Ave., Fresno, Cal., has been appointed to succeed Raymond Larson as Secretary-Treasurer of the Collectors of Numismatic Errors. Michael Kolman, 4263 Pearl Rd., Cleveland 9, Ohio, will once again edit the Bulletin. He is short of articles and invites papers on numismatic errors.

Membership in the organization is $4.00 a year which includes subscription to the Bulletin. Application forms may be obtained from the Secretary-Treasurer.

Ken's Coin Shop Looted of Coins

In February, Ken's Coin Shop, 44 W. Market St., York, Pa., was burglarized and about $5,500 worth of stock was stolen. In the loot were a large number of British minor coins of the Nineteenth and Twentieth Centuries.

Wichita Club Considers Lewis Reagan Memorial

Some method of perpetuating the name of the late Lewis M. Reagan will be adopted by the Wichita (Kan.) Coin Club. The question was to be discussed at the February meeting, according to Bert Jones, Second Vice President, who planned to suggest a permanent student loan fund to be added to annually through some club action. It would be established at Wichita Municipal University where the late General Secretary of the American Numismatic Association had taught mathematics since 1946. He was the club's first President and held membership card No. 1.

At the outset, the fund would be provided by the club and by contributions of Wichita numismatists, under the Vice President's plan. Other ways to honor Lewis Reagan may supplant his suggestion, but there is ample feeling among club members that some program will be adopted. The Vice President's suggestion will include a proposal for an annual auction of material donated by members with the total receipts going to the loan fund.

Australian Numismatic Information Sought

If you have any interesting or scarce numismatic specimens of Australia or have one of the "Holey Dollars" of New South Wales, please advise J. Hunt Deacon, Numismatologist of the National Gallery, North Terrace, Adelaide, South Australia. He has listed a hundred forty-three pieces of the "Holey Dollar" about half of which are in public institutions, and wishes to compile as complete a listing as possible.

Identifies Another Member of 1910 Convention

I do not have the photo of the 1910 convention at hand, as I pass my copies to my great-grand nephew who is an enthusiastic collector of fourteen years. But I did recognize one member placed about the center of the picture, a gray bearded gentleman of Chicago. A steady attendant of A.N.A. conventions, he was Frederick Lowers, familiarly known as "the Colonel." He once told me he was "the Drummer Boy at Shiloh."

Coins Are Usually Not Available at Foreign Mints

Dear Mr. Bradfield:

Within the last year there have appeared in the numismatic field lists of a hundred or more foreign mints which collectors of world coins have been told will supply them with proof and uncirculated coins. This is a new trick which first appeared in the New York area and has since spread over the country.

So far as South American coins are concerned, the mints of Argentina, Brazil, Uruguay, etc., do not sell uncirculated or proof coins nor is there a separate department of the governments which does. I should not wonder if similar treatment is accorded by other mints throughout the world. Selling of proof and uncirculated coins is done by very few mints, among them U. S. Mints.

Purchase of such lists at $2.00 or so is, in most instances, money thrown away.

Northwest Central Convention in Billings

W. R. "Curly" Scott is Chairman of the 1962 Northwest Central States Numismatic Association Convention to be held in the swank Northern Hotel in Billings, Mont., April 7-8. "Curly" did such an excellent job at last year's convention and has been so successful with other numismatic activities that an outstanding meeting is expected this year. He has plenty of help from other appointments by Association President Francis George. Chairman Scott is serving his fourth term as President of the host Billings Coin Club.

A round the clock guard of exhibits and bourse will be handled by men experienced in this kind of duty. Collectors will exhibit some notable gold collections and displays which have been winners in other coin shows. Those desiring further information can still get it from W. R. Scott, P. O. Box 115, Billings, Mont.

Empire Acquires Printing Plant

Q. David Bowers and James F. Ruddy of Empire Coin Company, Inc., announce the purchase of the capital stock of Creative Printing, Inc. of Binghamton, N. Y. One of the largest printing firms in that area, it will handle the production of the Empire Review, thus permitting its issuance on a more frequent basis.

Texas Convention

The Texas Numismatic Association convention with Temple Coin Club as host, is April 14 and 15 at the Hotel Kyle in downtown Temple. John S. Hill, P. O. Box 3477, Temple, Texas, is General Chairman and will be pleased to receive inquiries about bourse space, exhibits, or any other phase of the affair. Requests for room reservations should be sent direct to Manager Lee Slaughter of the Hotel Kyle.

Awards will be made for exhibits in both senior and junior classes. The auction has been awarded to the well known Central Texas auctioneer, Barney Welsh, for a one session auction Saturday night. With ample facilities at the Hotel Kyle and enthusiastic members of the host Club, a warm welcome and a "tall Texas treat" is in store for all who come to Temple the second weekend in April. — KALVART K. TIDWELL, Publicity Chairman

Kentucky State Show April 20-22 in Owensboro

Representatives of the Owensboro Coin Club and the Louisville Coin Club met in late February to complete plans for the spring show of Kentucky State Numismatic Association, and announce that everything is in readiness. Information about the show, which will be held in the Hotel Owensboro, may be obtained from Col. R. H. Breckenridge, General Chairman, 1716 Windsor Ave., Owensboro, Ky.

Rifle Mail for Coins

Lauren Benson, 511 Putnam Bldg., Davenport, Iowa, reports a shipment of scarce unc. coins, 616 South African 1d of 1950 and a hundred Greenland 5 kroner pieces of 1944, were stolen while en route from an Eastern wholesaler.

Three Stage $75,000 Chicago Robbery

Three gunmen, wearing stocking cap masks, terrorized a seventy-five year old Chicago numismatist and his wife in the early morning hours of March 4 and fled with about $75,000 in coins, stamps and jewelry. The victim, Richard McP. Cabeen, architect and stamp editor of the Chicago Tribune, and Mrs. Cabeen were tied and gagged by the robbers who had gained access through a second story

AIRMAN EXHIBITS IN TURKEY

During National Library Week Capt. Wirt D. Griggs displayed his collection in the library at the Near East air base of Incirlik, near Adana, Turkey. Capt. Griggs is shown assembling the exhibit that featured American and Canadian, foreign and ancient coins. The librarian supplied the coin books seen in the picture. The Captain reports he had found some old Roman coins in ancient ruins in the area of Adana. (Official photograph of USAF Incirlik AB, Adana, Turkey) window of their four story residence. The men seemed well-informed and went directly to the spot where coins and stamps were kept. Some of the coins taken were:

U.S. $3.00 gold, forty-two pieces; U.S. $1.00 gold, seventy pieces 1849-1889; U.S. gold type set; $2.50, gold, sixty early; $2.50 gold, thirty Indian Head.

Cents, complete Indian Head, (1864-L unc., 1877 e.f.); cents, Lincoln, complete to 1945 (1914-D and 1923-S, e.f.); eight rolls 1939-D cents, unc.; steel cents, 1943-S, BU, five hundred pieces, grouped by various die cracks.

California fractional gold, both octagonal and round, in denominations 25¢, 50¢ and $1.00, two hundred pieces, many rare, including some that are found only in this and Kenneth Lee collections; these coins are not to be confused with modern imitations and jewelry pieces.

Assorted medals, hundred and seventy-five pieces; two each year, U.S. Mint sets, 1940-1944; Chinese brass cash pieces, mostly attributed, thousand pieces; large quantity of U.S. 25¢ and 50¢ silver; miscellaneous U.S. and foreign coins in gold, silver and bronze. Collections of coral jewelry, turquoise jewelry, silver earrings were also taken.

California Token Group Condemns Unmarked Replicas

Two hundred fifty collectors of medals, tokens, obsolete paper money and scrip attended the first annual convention of the Southern California Exonumist Society Feb. 3-4 at Riverside, Cal. The Mission Inn provided the setting for the gathering, which doubled as the sixth quarterly meeting at the Society.

At the business meeting a resolution was passed to ban from bourse, auction or direct sale under SCES auspices of any unmarked replicas, reproductions or copies of numismatic material. It was noted that the recent production of a large amount of such undesirable material could only result in harm to the original specimens and lead to fraud in eventual resales.

With both auction and bourse limited to numismatic items other than coins and government bank notes, reports show brisk sales in all divisions except modern medals, which were noticeably slower than in recent months. Auctioneers Ralph A. (Curley) Mitchell and Russell Rulau disposed of 209 lots in two sessions.

Charles M. Johnson and Ralph Mitchell inspect token at SCES meeting.

Twelve bourse tables featured such items as so-called dollars, modern medals, Civil War and Hard Times tokens, awards and decorations, medallions of all nations, Indian Peace medals, store cards and trade checks, transportation items, broken bank and Confederate currency.

A number of numismatic authors and publishers were present. These included Clifford Mishler, publisher of the annual catalog of tokens and medals; Frank Wilson, publisher of Western Coin Journal; Charles V. Kappen, retiring Editor of Calcoin News and co-author of books on so-called dollars and depression scrip; Charles Colver, Asst. Editor of Calcoin News; Ralph A. Mitchell co-author of the book on depression scrip and Asst. Editor of TAMS Journal; Russell Rulan, Assoc. Editor of Calcoin News and Asst. Editor of TAMS Journal; Charles M. Johnson, Chairman of the A.N.A. Reprint Committee. SCES President Paul Hamm welcomed members and guests at the business meeting.

Exhibit awards went to: first — Elizabeth L. Case, convention tokens; second — Harvey L. Rose, medals of Mexico; Ethel R. Stone, medals and medallions. Miss Stone's display was mounted in special cases of glass-and-mirror to show both sides of the pieces.

Society officers were installed by CSNA Secretary Daniel C. Harley: President Paul Hamm, Vice President Ralph A. Mitchell, Secretary Russell Rulan, Treasurer Virginia Culver, Board Member Dr. Calvert L. Emons of Ontario, Calif.

The Money of Puerto Rico by Maurice M. Gould and Lincoln W. Higgle, 1962, illus., 84 pp., Whitman Publishing Company, Racine, Wis., $1.00. This is the latest in the low cost Whitman Reference Series and is uniform with others in this group. Described and priced are more than five hundred Puerto Rican coins, tokens, counter-stamped pieces and paper money items. It is a numismatic story of an American commonwealth that may be our fifty-first state some day.

How United States Coins Are Made by Walter Thompson, published by Numismatic Scrapbook Magazine, Hewitt Brothers, 7320 Milwaukee Ave., Chicago 48, Ill., 48 pp., illus., 1962, $1.00. Purpose of this booklet is to inform collectors as to the steps required in the manufacture of coins. It fulfills this purpose by relating briefly the history of our mints, die making; assaying, melting and refinement of metals; operations; striking; varieties and errors of coinage. Liberal use of pictures and diagrams increase the value of the volume.

The first number of a quarterly magazine, Paper Money, official publication of the Society of Paper Money Collectors, was issued at the end of February. A quality production it contains a tentative constitution and by-laws, short articles, two book reviews and a roster. It has no advertisements but gives advertising rates for future issues. George W. Wait, P. O. Box 165, Glen Ridge, N. J., is Secretary of the Society.

From Barter to Gold: The Story of Money by Solveig Paulson Russell, illus. by Cary, Rand McNally & Co., New York, N. Y., 1961, 64 pp., index, hard cover, $2.95. The author, an Oregon school teacher, has written a number of children's books. A colorful book, which provides a once over lightly treatment of currency's growth from its inception, it is most suitable for a child's birthday or a Christmas present.

Getting Started in Coin Collecting by Burton Hobson, Sterling Publishing Co., New York, N. Y., 1961, illus., 124 pp., hard cover, $2.50. The author was formerly head of the coin department of Marshall Field & Co., Chicago, Ill. Among the topics covered in this book are type sets, die varieties, medals, proof coins, etc. Subject matter is mostly concerned with American coins, although ancients and foreign coins are covered briefly.

The New Style Silver Coinage of Athens by Margaret Thompson, Numismatic Studies No. 10. American Numismatic Society, New York, N. Y., 1962, two vols., (text 747 pp., over 202 plates) cloth bound, $50.00. Curator of Greek Coins at the American Numismatic Society, the author has produced a definitive work on late Athenian money. Nearly seven thousand specimens representing a hundred and ten emissions are considered. Following the catalogs and commentaries are chapters on imitations, hoards, magistrates, symbols and a statistical survey section which gives data on neutron activation analyses, weights, control markings and the relative size of the issues. The study provides a chronological arrangement of New Style silver as well as evidence on the identification of magistrates whose names appear on the coins, the date of the working out of the Laurium mines, a connection between Athens and Mithradates V of Pontus and other matters of historical consequence.

Flags of New Zealand by Allan Sutherland, address above, 19 pp., 50¢. Not a numismatic publication, the booklet deals in a general way with the selection of the flag and mentions incidentally that leaders in 1869-1870 seriously considered adoption of the Stars and Stripes for New Zealand with all that that implies. After a British Government guarantee of a £1 million loan "the colony nestled more closely under the folds of Empire." Today it is a self governing country.

New Zealand Famous Firsts and Related Records by Allan Sutherland, address above, 132 pp., illus., 1961, $1.00. Gives brief but informative answers to almost anything relating to the country, including medals, coins, banking, currency, and a host of other subjects, alphabetically arranged in encyclopedic manner. (The author is especially well qualified on the wide range of New Zealand political affairs and matters concerning her history, as he is the Editor of "Hansard" — equivalent to the U. S. Congressional Record. He expects to retire March 31, 1962. He is a highly respected numismatist and is the A.N.A. member of longest standing in New Zealand, having joined the Association in 1934.)

Boys Town PhilaMatic Center has added to its collection Government of Tonga notes: Four shillings, brown; ten shillings, green; one pound, red; five pounds, blue. These notes are made by London's Thomas De La Rue and Company and are about one and a half times the size of U. S. paper money.

All the notes are of the same general design, with the central vignette on the obverse showing the coat of arms of Tonga, tropical trees in upper left and lower right corners, and geometric designs and value in the other two corners. The reverse is the same color as the obverse and carries an ornate geometric design in the center with value in each corner.

SURVEY OF MEDIEVAL IBERIAN COINAGES

II — Aragon

By

P. K. ANDERSON, LM 210 AND J. F. LHOTKA, LM 334

Coins of Alfonso III (1285-1291)

Alfonso III (the Liberal), 1285-1291, named his brother James as King of Sicily and angered the Pope. The war was renewed. Alfonso soon lost his nerve and bowed to the prestige of the Pope promising to return Sicily even if it meant war with his brother James. Before this promise could be carried out Alfonso died and left the Kingdom of Aragon to James. Alfonso followed his father's example and did not strike coins for Aragon but did have a coinage for Barcelona.

Struck for Aragon —

No coins.

Struck for Barcelona (as Alfonso II of Catalonia) —

129. +ALFOSVS DE GRACIA REX (crowned bust facing left). Rev.: CIVI TAS BACK NONA (Barcelona type). Croat denomination. (H. LXXVIII, 2)

Half croat of Alfonso III of Aragon struck for Barcelona as Alfonso II of Catalonia (H.-LXXVIII, 1)

130. Similar to No. 129 but half croat size and denomination. (H. LXXVIII, 1)

Coins of James II (1291-1327)

James II, 1291-1327, had been King of Sicily and was very reluctant to relinquish claims to the Island. However, discretion appeared to be the better part of valor and James agreed to conform to his brother's promises. In return for this he was granted Sardinia and Corsica which he turned over to his son Alfonso. Trouble appeared in Majorca and for four years the island was in possession of a usurper. James died in Barcelona on November 3, 1327, at the age of sixty-six.

Struck for Aragon —

131. :IACOBVS:REX (patriarchal cross). Rev.: ARA GON (crowned bust facing left dividing the legend as indicated). Dinero denomination. (H. LXXI, 1)

132. Similar to No. 130 but of obol size. (H. LXXI, 2)

Struck for Barcelona —

133. +IACOBVS DEI GRACIA REX (crowned bust facing left). Rev.: CIVI TAS BARK NONA (Barcelona type). Croat denomination. (H. LXXVIII, 1)

134. +IACOBVS REX (crowned bust facing left). Rev.: BA QI NO NA (Barcelona type). Dinero denomination. (H. LXXVIII, 4)

135. Similar to No. 134 but of obol size. (H. LXXVIII, 5)
Struck for Sardinia —

136. +IACOBVS ARAGON ET SARD IN REX (arms of Aragon, rosette above, two rosettes to either side of shield). Rev.: +FORTITVDO ET LAVS MEA DOMIVS (equilateral cross, a rosette in each angle). Tari denomination. (H. CXLI, 2)

Half dinero of James II of Aragon struck for Sardinia (H.-CXLI, 1)

137. +IACOBVS ARAGON (arms of Aragon). Rev.: +ET SARDINIE REX (equilateral cross with rosettes in each angle). Dinero denomination. (H. CXLI, 1)
Struck for Sicily —

See coin No. 224.

Coins of Alfonso IV (1327-1335)

Alfonso IV (the Benign), 1327-1335, was the second son of James II and had a short but uneventful reign. There was unrest in Sardinia and, in 1331, Alfonso declared war on Genoa. Before this was settled Alfonso died leaving as heir his son.

Struck for Aragon —

No coins.

Struck for Barcelona (as Alfonso III of Catalonia) —

Croat of Alfonso IV of Aragon (III of Catalonia) struck for Barcelona (H.-LXXVIII, 1)

138. +ALFONSVS DEI GRACIA REX (crowned bust facing left). Rev.: CIVI TASB ARCK NONA (Barcelona type). Croat denomination. (H. LXXVIII, 1)

Struck for Sardinia —

Tari of Alfonso IV of Aragon struck for Sardinia (H.-XCLI, 2)

139. +ALFONSVS ARAGON ET SARDIN REX (arms of Aragon, flowers at sides and above). Rev.: +FORTITVDO ET LAVS MEA DOMIVS (equilateral cross, pellets at end of limbs and flowers in each angle). Tari denomination. (H. CXXXXXI, 2)

Coins of Peter IV (1335-1387)

Peter IV (the Ceremonious), 1336-1387, was short of stature and had a violent temper. He was insistent on ceremony and his court was always the scene of pomp and fanfare which accounts for his nickname. He was noted in astrology and alchemy and was one of the foremost troubadours of his time. He was also a writer of both poetry and prose. As usual there were attempts by the nobility to increase their privileges. The cities, however, joined with the King against the nobles, so Peter was successful in reducing to some extent the feudal powers of the barons. Peter's foreign policy was limited and very little was accomplished beyond his borders. He was able to settle the war with Genoa and put down the Sardinian uprising with difficulty but with small benefits for himself. He died on January 5, 1387 leaving the throne to his son, John.

Struck for Aragon —

Dinero of Peter IV struck for Aragon (H.-LXXI, 1). Note that the side of the coin bearing the bust is considered the reverse as the King's name is on the side bearing the cross type.

140. PETRUS DI GRA REX (patriarchial cross). Rev.: ARA GON (crowned bust facing left dividing legend as indicated). Dinero denomination. (H. LXXI, 1)

Gold florin struck by Peter IV of Aragon. Except for the obverse legend this coin is almost identical to the issues of Florence (H.-LXXII, 5)

141. +P.REX ARAGO (fleur de lys). Rev.: S. IOHANNES.B. (standing facing figure of St. John the Baptist). Florin denomination. (H. LXXII, 9). (There is a fairly extensive series of these imitative coins issued by the Kings of Aragon and copied from the famous Florentine gold coin. Generally, they are rare but they constitute the only coinage issued for Aragon proper in the later medieval period with one or two exceptions.)

Struck for Barcelona (as Peter III of Catalonia) —

142. +PETRVS:DEI:GRACIA:REX (crowned bust facing left). Rev.: CIVI TASB ARCK NONA (Barcelona type). Croat denomination. (H. LXXVIII, 1)

143. +PETRUS:REX (crowned bust facing left). Rev.: BA QI NO NA (Barcelona type). Dinero denomination. (H. LXXIX, 7)

Struck for Majorca (as Peter I of Majorca) —

146. +PETRVS:DEI:GRACIA REX (crowned facing bust with scallop shells to either side of head). Rev.: +ARAGONVM:ET MAIORICARUM (Majorcan cross with scallop shells in each angle). Real denomination. (H. CIV, 13)

147. +P:DEI:GRA:ARAGON (crowned facing bust, roses to either side of head. Rev.: +ET:MAIOR ICAR :REX (Majorcan cross). Dobler denomination. (H. CIV, 15)

Struck for Sardinia —

Real of Peter IV of Aragon struck for Sardinia (H.-CXLI, 1)

148. +PETRUS ARAGONUM ET SARDINIE REX (arms of Aragon, flowers at sides and above). Rev.: +FORTITUDO ET LAUS MEA DOMINUS (equilateral cross with annulets at end of limbs). Real denomination. (H. CXXXXI, 1)

149. +PETRUS DEI GRACIA REX (arms of Aragon on a lozenge). Rev.: +ARAGONUM ET SARDINIE (crowns in angles of equilateral cross). Real denomination. (H. CXXXXI, 3)

Coins of John I of Aragon (1387-1396)

John I of Aragon, 1387-1396, had a rather short and uneventful reign. Internal disorders were common with no one gaining advantage. John struck only gold for Aragon proper but these coins are comparatively common. His silver coins issued for Majorca are quite rare. John was killed after falling from his horse while fox hunting. Since he had left no male heirs, his younger brother Martin succeeded to the throne of Aragon.

Struck for Aragon —

150. +ARAG OREXIO (fleur de lys). Rev.: S IOHANNES B (standing facing figure of St. John the Baptist). Florin denomination. (H. LXXII, 1)

Struck for Barcelona —

No coins.

Struck for Majorca —

Double real of John I of Aragon struck for Majorca (H.-CV, 1)

151. +IOHANNES.DEI.GRACIA.REX (crowned facing bust with scallop shells to either side of head). Rev.: +ARAGONVM:ET MAIORICAR (Majorcan cross with scallop shells in angles). Double real denomination. (H. CV, 1)

152. +IO.DEL.GRACIA.REX (crowned facing bust with scallop shells to either side of head). Rev.: +ARAGO:ET:MAIORI (Majorcan cross, scallop shells in the angles). One-quarter real denomination. (H. CV, 3)

The Hungarian Government has put into circulation gold coins in denominations of five hundred, one hundred, and fifty forints in commemoration of the one hundred fiftieth anniversary of the birth of Franz Liszt and the eightieth anniversary of that of Bela Bartók, according to Handelsblatt, Düsseldorf, Germany, January 18, 1962.

No silver dollars have been struck since 1935. Coinage of this denomination is not now contemplated inasmuch as the stocks on hand are adequate to supply the demand.

FOR THE LOVE OF MONEY

By

JOSEPH E. FIELDS AND HARLEY L. FREEMAN, A.N.A. No. 2393

Concluded from March, 1962

The Massachusetts Archives Division has no currency in its files. The Rhode Island Historical Society has a fine collection, formed by the late Elisha Potter. It is particularly strong in the Rhode Island issues and a monograph on the subject was published by Potter in 1880. The Rhode Island Archives department has only a few unissued sheets of late date.

The Hall of Records at Annapolis has purchased a small group of Maryland currency. More extensive in scope is the collection at the Maryland Historical Society which consists of about three hundred Maryland notes and about two hundred from other colonies and states.

The Virginia State Library has a small collection of forty-two items, representing thirty-three separate

The New York State Library has only a few issues in its collection. The New Jersey Historical Society has a small collection of issues from their state consisting of thirty-six different varieties. The New Jersey State Library has ninety-six pieces from several of the colonies.

The collection at the Pennsylvania Historical Society has been mentioned above. The Pennsylvania State Museum has a collection of about two hundred pieces, representing about fifty different varieties. Both the Delaware Archives Commission and the Delaware Historical Society have small groups of notes emitted, by their colony and state.

varieties. One of the best collections of Virginia notes is owned by the Virginia Historical Society. It consists of approximately one hundred fifty unduplicated issues with an additional one hundred duplicates, the greater part of which was the gift of Dr. B. Randolph Wellford. A check list has been published by the Society.

The Department of Archives and History of North Carolina has about seventy-five pieces issued by that state. They have also published an interesting monograph on the subject. The South Carolina Archives Department has an insignificant collection but in the near future they may come upon additional issues among a quantity of as yet uncataloged material that has recently come into their possession. The Department of Archives and History of the State of Georgia has no collection of currency issued by the state. The Georgia Historical Society has only a small collection of Georgia and South Carolina issues, consisting of twenty-three different varieties.

In making the above survey it became quite evident that few of the collections housed in institutions have been adequately appraised, cataloged, or integrated. In several instances not even the exact number of items is known. Several well known institutions seemed oblivious to their fine collections to the point of practically denying their existence, in spite of the fact that one of us had a previous first-hand knowledge of the collection.

The increasing interest and value of these colonial issues should serve as a challenge to the institutional owners to survey and catalog their collections. Present microfilming and photostating techniques make it economically practical and physically possible for the task to be accomplished by any one of a number of experts. A golden opportunity exists by which the desiderata of one institution might be satisfied by the sale or barter of duplicates from other institutions and private collectors.

Unfortunately there is no accurate list of all denominations, their dates of issue and those authorized to sign them. A number of volumes have been written on the subject but not all the colonies have been covered and some of those which have been are not always correct or complete. North Carolina, Georgia and Maryland have never been accurately covered in any publication. Rhode Island, New Hampshire, Massachusetts and Connecticut issues warrant further study, especially as to the various overprinting of dates as additional issues were made.

NEW PERUVIAN MONETARY LAW

The Central Reserve Bank of Peru began operating February 1, 1962, under the new organic law which supersedes the old act in effect since September 1, 1931. The issuance of bank notes and coins is to be exercised exclusively by the Bank. Its notes are to be unlimited legal tender for either public or private debts, and its coins will be legal tender in amounts not exceeding fifty gold soles.

The Bank's legal reserve is to comprise gold bullion or gold coin; gold and dollar subscription to the International Monetary Fund; foreign money convertible into gold; deposits in accredited banks abroad payable in gold or its equivalent, either at sight or within ninety days; and bankers' acceptances, readily negotiable, of a maturity not exceeding ninety days and convertible into gold or its equivalent. If this legal reserve amounts to less than twenty-five per cent of the total notes and coins issued by the Bank plus sight liabilities of the Bank, the Board of Directors is to report thereon to the Ministry of Finance, analyzing the causes of the decline, and to suggest means which in its view would be adequate to restore the legal reserve to the twenty-five per cent level.

The new law repeals the obligation of the Central Reserve Bank to maintain as "untouchable gold" an amount equivalent to the gold held by the Bank on May 18, 1931. The amount so held has been reported by the Bank as equivalent to about $18.4 million.

With a membership of 307 individuals and 19 clubs, the Northern California Numismatic Association is looking forward to one of the largest conventions ever held in the state September 7-9. Nationally known exhibits and speakers have been promised for the meeting to be held in the Jack Tar Hotel in San Francisco. Inquiries about bourse and other information may be addressed to the President at 65 Post St., San Jose 13, Cal. Leo Young is planning an auction of choice material. Roy Hill, 1140 Sutter St., San Francisco 9, is exhibits chairman. Member clubs are being asked to assist in the convention by taking over the conduct of such functions as registration, greeting, educational forum, banquet, entertainment, etc. — DENIS N. HOOKER, Pres.

The Quad City Coin Club will hold its third one-day coin show on June 10 at the American Legion Hall, Fremont, Ohio. This is a much larger hall than previously used, having space for seventy-four eight-foot tables and seven hundred seats available, with ample parking space. Food and refreshments will be served. This hall is located on City and County Road 12 on the south edge of Fremont, in Ballville. We will have a small auction of choice items, nice displays, and expect a new record in attendance. For bourse table reservations, write Chas. H. Wolfe, P.O. Box 95, Clyde, Ohio. — JOHN ZIEGLER, Sec.

Forty-six attended the December 16 meeting of the Toronto Coin Club and were privileged to hear William A. Stewart, Curator and Librarian of the Royal Canadian Military Institute. He traced the history of Canada's military medals, of which he has one of the finest collections in Canada, from their British origin to the present day. After the meeting, members exchanged holiday greetings over cups of coffee. Sixty-four members and friends enjoyed talks by a panel of five outstanding numismatists at the January 27 meeting. Panelists were: Mrs. Mary Chariton, wife of the prominent Canadian dealer; Walter Holmes, Canadian chairman of the joint A.N.A.-C.N.A. 1962 convention; Fred Jewett, treasurer of our Club; Rudy Sauro, a past president of Hamilton Coin Club; and Bruce Brace, C.N.A. director for Ontario, who was the moderator. Topics discussed were: coin grading; specialization or generalization for the beginner; dealer and collector; numismatic library. Members were invited to discuss the topic and ask questions at the end of each section and, with maximum participation, it proved to be an unusually informative and successful meeting. — K. M. RICHARDS, Sec.

Sponsored jointly by the George Washington Numismatic Association and the Mon Valley Coin Club, the Southwestern Pennsylvania coin show will be held April 28-29 in the George Washington Hotel in Washington, Pa. The sell-out sign was posted in mid-February for the forty bourse tables that will be occupied by dealers from four states and Canada. Bourse and exhibits will be open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. on Saturday and from noon to 7 p.m. on Sunday.

Since the February 7 meeting of North Central Kansas Coin Club was designated special display night, attendance was better than usual. Also, the Methodist Boy Scout Troop No. 31 was invited as special guest, and its members showed enthusiastic interest in the displays. Among the many fine displays, Charles Jewell's grandfather's clock was judged best. Charles had built the clock himself, using off-center cents in Kolit position to represent the numerals; i.e., Kolit 1 was at 1 o'clock, etc. At the center of the hands, he put a blank cent, and the pendulum was plastic in which five choice off-center cents were imbedded. The Secretary took second place with a type set of U.S. paper money, and Ivan Canfield's type set of U.S. gold won third. Virgil White announced that he had discovered a 1936 Canadian dot cent, of which he says only seven others are known. He promised to display it at our March meeting. — JOHN J. SMIES, Sec.-Treas.

With an attendance of about sixty, the Evansville Coin Club held its February 25 meeting in the Museum of Arts and Science. Darwin France showed copies of all numismatic periodicals available to coin collectors, and gave a rundown on them so that we would be more familiar with the several types and the advantages of each. In a coin quiz given by Ralph Lee and accepted with much enthusiasm by all, these were the prize winners: first, John Weyber; second, James Fleming; third, Tony Allen. President William Pukall spoke on "Not-Too-Common Tokens," and exhibited a large number including Civil War, German porcelain, Canadian and American. Free space was available to members for bourse activities following the meeting. Our new policy of quarterly instead of monthly auctions was put into effect at the January meeting and was most successful. Attendance rose to about three hundred persons. — BETTYE J. CLAUS, Sec.

The second annual "White Elephant" auction was held at the February 19 meeting of the Glendale (Calif.) Coin Club. Members were quite generous in their donations and the sale improved the condition of our treasury considerably. Auctioneer Tom Wood used his wit and humor to make the sale a lot of fun for all. Maynard and Mrs. Campbell displayed many of their mechanical toys as an added attraction. — ESTELLE K. POWERS, Rec. Sec.

The North Dakota Coin Club held its January 30 meeting in the H. D. Dunahay home in Bismarck. Dr. Berg made an exhibit illustrating the grading of coins according to Brown and Dunn, and gave us a talk on the subject. Norman Wegner presented a paper and exhibit on counterfeit, altered and mutilated coins. — HELEN L. MANGSKAU, Sec.

The new officers of the Key Coin Club, elected at the December 3 meeting, are as follows: President (reelected) Frank Mirto, Vice President Charles Eisen-smith, Secretary Walter Howarth, Treasurer (reelected) Gus DuBorik. This growing club meets the first and third Sunday evenings monthly. — WALTER B. HOWARTH, Sec.

It will be a "first" in Wisconsin when the Sheboygan Coin Club, Sheboygan Stamp Club, and Sheboygan Junior Stamp Club join forces to stage a show on April 29 in the Turner Hall. Unusual stamp frames and outstanding coin collections will be exhibited from 9:30 a.m. to 8 p.m., and auctions will be held in the afternoon. All collectors of coins and stamps, both novice and advanced, are invited. — EDGAR J. JUNG, Vice President, Sheboygan Stamp Club

The Wichita Coin Club held its February 14 meeting in the Court House with over one hundred in attendance. Member Jack Hazelwood gave an informative talk on odd and curious money, illustrated by many pieces from his collection, including a whale's tooth and a boar's tusk which were high value money in New Guinea. Howard Shigley, Secretary of Boeing Coin Club, also had a nice display of odd and curious money. Bill Betz gave an account of his trip to Florida where he attended coin shows at Tampa, Orlando and Sarasota. Glenn Koester, President of Oklahoma-Kansas Numismatic Association, announced appointment of Harold Fortney as General Chairman of the annual show to be held October 19-21 at the Broadview Hotel in Wichita, Kan. Other appointments have been made, and plans indicate the finest show yet in this two-state area. Members paid tribute to the memory of the late Lewis M. Reagan, who was the Club's first president, in silent prayers. — BERT P. JONES, Second Vice Pres.

Announcement has been made that the Reading Coin Club will hold its second annual coin show and exhibit in the Abraham Lincoln Hotel in Reading, Pa., September 21-23, 1962. Raymond G. Kroll is General Chairman, and the writer, Vice Chairman. Other committees have been appointed and all are working to make this an even better show than last year's great success, which had a bourse of sixty-four dealers and an attendance of about 15,000. Regular meetings of the Club are held at the Reading Co. YMCA, Sixth and Oley Sts., Reading. — CYRUS G. RHODA, Vice Chm.

Members of Triple Cities Coin Club enjoyed a talk by Q. David Bowers at the February 5 meeting. Bowers gave some little known details of our early numismatic magazines and books, commenting that some of the early issues of magazines and some of the books are rarer than the coins they advertised or described. His comparisons of coin prices then and now made us realize something of the growth of the hobby, but he stated that some of the early Colonial medals and tokens sold for more in 1870 than today. Plans for the May 18-20 Empire State Numismatic Association's twenty-fourth convention, with this Club as host in Binghamton, N. Y., were discussed. J. V. McDermott will show his 1913 Liberty head 5¢ in the exhibit and Ken Bressett, numismatic editor of Whitman Publishing Company, will be the speaker at the Saturday banquet. Ken started his numismatic study and writing here in the East in 1942, and we look forward to having him with us. — FRED G. HUNTER, Pres.

The following officers were elected at the February 12 meeting of Tri-County Coin Club of S. C.: President G. E. Dabney, Vice President Floyd Allison, Secretary-Treasurer J. Frank Hull, Directors Ira Adams, Thad Carroll, J. M. Gregg and Ralph Roach. We had invited the ladies to this meeting and were pleased with the turnout. There was an unusual number of dealers present, also. — J. FRANK HULL, Sec.-Treas.

The annual spring meeting of the Lincoln Land Coin Club will be held May 12-13, Hotel St. Nicholas, Springfield, Ill. Ample room is assured for the fifty bourse tables (by invitation only) and the many exhibits expected. Tommy Ryan of Chicago will conduct a two-session auction of the kind of material for which his auctions are noted. Exhibits will be judged for awards at 1 p.m. Saturday and the awards will be made soon after. There will be prizes and tours of Lincoln shrines. The Hotel St. Nicholas guarantees rooms to all who obtain confirmed reservations, which should be made directly with the Hotel. The show will be without admission charge both days, and visitors are urged to attend. We have had shows in the last four years which rank with the best anywhere, and this one will be no exception. — WALTER McMANN, Pres.

Members of Oak Park (Ill.) Coin Club were pleased to have Lee Hewitt, Editor of Numismatic Scrapbook Magazine, as a guest at its February 9 meeting. Lee favored us with some revealing "off the cuff" comments about news of the day and problems of publishing a magazine. Announcement was made of the date, November 5, for our annual West Suburban coin exhibit in the Oak Park Arms Hotel. President Genualdi reminded us to contribute to a memorial fund for the late Lewis M. Reagan. Exhibits were provided by Dennis Anderson, Gerda Birkholtz, Larry Brueck, Fred Catalano, Harry Flower, Jim Grebinger, Irving Harris, Joseph Kotler, Monty Lewis, Ray Pentz and Jim Babka. Several exhibitors made brief talks on their material. — JIM BABKA, Sec.

At its January 18-21 Florida Mid-Winter coin show, the Tampa Coin Club surprised those who entered exhibits by giving them a dinner in recognition of their contribution to the show's success. Exhibit award winners were: best-in-show, Arthur Lovi of Pensacola; U. S.

fractional money, L. A. Cook, Hapeville, Ga.; foreign money, William Lavel, Toronto, Canada; gold coins and medals, Irving Moskovitz, Detroit; mint errors and curious money, Evelyn Gorski, Noel, Mo.; U. S. coins, Gaston DiBello, Buffalo, N. Y.; paper money, Grover Criswell Jr., St. Petersburg, Fla.; fascinating display, J. V. McDermott, South Milwaukee, Wis. Among the junior exhibitors, awards went to Jeff Person St. Petersburg, in the originality class; Charles Gandy, Tampa, in the unique class; and Roy Capitolo, Tampa, in the historical class. The bourse consisted of fifty-four tables, with dealers from eighteen states and five from Canada. This being a city with many Spanish and Cuban people, and a seaport where many ships call, interest in foreign coins was greater than at most shows. Dealers reported a good business. Guard service which included police dogs was an innovation that proved to be effective and satisfactory.

Talks on Washington and Lincoln coins highlighted the February 12 meeting of Fort Madison (Iowa) Coin Club. Wyard Troja, a charter member who has attended all of the Club's seventy-nine meetings, covered the Washington pieces of 1783 to 1795, and the Washington quarter. Librarian Philip Budd spoke on the origin and history of the Lincoln cent, stating that the publicity given it at the time of issue and the immediately recognized scarcity of the 1909-S VDB cent served a good purpose for numismatics. He called attention to the staggering number of Lincoln cents that have been issued — over thirty-two billion. The 1962 officers are: President Robert Peterson, Vice President William Wixom, Secretary-Treasurer June Budd, Historian Arlene Lampe, Librarian Philip Budd. Meetings are held the second Monday evening monthly in the Labor Temple, 1104 Avenue E, Fort Madison. — JUNE BUDD, Sec.-Treas.

Lee Ihrie displayed his collection and gave a talk on commemorative coins at the February 13 meeting of Lincoln (Nebr.) Coin Club. James McKee displayed a group of bonds issued by the Confederacy during the Civil War, and Joe Ward showed a Columbian Exposition medal dated October, 1892. We are proud that member John J. Gabarron was appointed to the U. S. Assay Commission by President Kennedy. We welcome visitors to our meetings the second Tuesday monthly at the YMCA. — ARNOLD L. HIGGINS, Publ. Chm.

The new officers of Balch Springs Coin Club are: President Mrs. E. D. Whitley, Vice President Richard Knuth, Secretary-Treasurer K. W. Robinson. Formerly the Mesquite Coin Club and reorganized last summer, we meet the second Monday monthly in the Community Center in Balch Springs, Texas, and invite collectors in the greater Dallas-Mesquite area to attend any meeting. — K. W. ROBINSON, Sec.

Competitive exhibits of numismatic and other material relating to Presidents Washington and Lincoln were the feature of the February 12 meeting of Missouri Numismatic Society at the Hotel Claridge in St. Louis. The one hundred sixty members and guests found particular interest in Arthur Faucon's first prize exhibit which included a Lincoln postage stamp, land grants signed by Lincoln, medals and other items relating to the 1860 presidential campaign. Walter Grossman, second prize winner, displayed a double type set of 1783 Washington pieces and discussed such related topics as actual date of making them, who made them and where they were made. Third prize winner Joe Smith displayed an outstanding collection of Washington quarters. Our Society is a "going concern," entertaining many guests and adding new members at each meeting. We believe in and encourage participation in numismatic events and projects such as National Coin Week, our own and other coin shows, and local publicity. Chairman Dave Cooper announced that bourse tables are being reserved now for our August 11 and 12 annual show at the Hotel Statler; space is limited to fifty tables. The Society is currently accumulating various items for the Occupation Therapy Department of Cardinal Glennon Memorial Hospital in St. Louis, in recognition of our civic responsibility. Our officers are working on revisions of the Society's constitution and by-laws to reflect its growth from a nucleus of thirty-eight to the present membership of two hundred fifty. — MRS. BERNICE STEVENSON, Sec.

The Amarillo Coin Club announces that Elden Leasure was reelected to the presidency for a second term. Other officers are: Vice President Ernest Wright, Secretary-Treasurer Raymond Daugherty, Program Chairman, Bob Melton. The Club will hold its second coin and stamp show May 19-20 in the Herring Hotel, Amarillo, Texas, with Mike Powell as Chairman. Bourse reservations may be secured from the Secretary, 1600 N. Arapahoe, Amarillo. — RAYMOND DAUGHERTY, Sec.-Treas.

Sixty-nine members and guests of Utah Numismatic Society attended the January 15 meeting in the Murray B. Allen Blind Center in Salt Lake City. The newly elected officers (see March "Club News") were introduced and took over their respective offices. President Robert Glade presented a beautiful cast aluminum plaque, made by Curator Dave Sugden, to each of the 1961 officers. A $5 gold coin was presented to retiring President Joe E. Plant in recognition of his fine leadership during the last year. — AFTON H. WEBB, Sec.

At a recent meeting of the Staten Island Coin Club, the following were elected officers for 1962: President Robert Kurtz, Vice President Charles Mullin, Treasurer Charles Wranovics, Corresponding Secretary Richard Spada, Recording Secretary Marshall Alpert and Sergeant-at-Arms Vincent Narducci. This Club meets the first Thursday evening monthly at the Staten Island Museum, St. George, Staten Island, N. Y. — RICHARD SPADA, Corr. Sec.

Fifty-seven attended the January 23 meeting of Port City Coin Club, Muscatine, Iowa, and saw President Ray Wendinger present numismatic books to the local libraries. Harvey Burham, a Past President of the Club, received books for the Public Library. Tom Anthony for Hayes Catholic High School, John Smith for Muscatine High, Steven Maher for West Junior High, Brian Walter for Central Junior High, and Dale Goddard for Muscatine Junior College. Each school library received Moneys of the Bible, How to Build a Coin Collection, A Guide to Grading of United States Coins, Coin Dictionary and Guide, A Story of Civil War Money, Coins of Bible Days, and A Story of Paper Money went to certain ones. President Wendinger said that the Club intends to present additional books to the libraries in future years. After the presentation, plans were discussed for the annual spring show to be held April 29 in the YWCA. — MARION A. HEINRICH, Corr. Sec.

At the February 7 meeting in the Chadron (Texas) City Hall, eighteen members of the Panhandle Coin Club discussed the desirability of changing our name from "Coin Club" to "Numismatic Society." Since we have members who collect paper money and medals instead of coins, it is felt that the word "coin" is not entirely appropriate in our name. The remainder of the meeting was devoted to our quarterly auction. — TED KADLECEK, JR., Reporter

(Editor's Note: We would not try to influence this Club's decision but note that most use "coin" clubs, "coin" shops, "coin" shows and "coin" publications. Probably the shorter word is used because it is shorter, easier to say, most collectors start with coins, and because it is felt that the general public grasps the meaning of a "coin" activity better than if "numismatic" is used. The Numismatist is published for collectors of coins, medals, tokens and paper money.)

Fifteen members had the pleasure of hearing President Foley discuss "Coins of the Hudson Bay Company" at the February 6 meeting of Western Pennsylvania Numismatic Society in the Carnegie Museum Library, Pittsburgh. He developed the history of the Hudson Bay Company in relation to explorations to finding a route to India, and the need for beaver furs in Europe for articles of clothing, caps, etc. A lively discussion followed his talk. Related items exhibited by Richard Foley included an 1820 Northwest token; Hudson Bay 1, ½, ¼ and ⅛ M.B. tokens; 1892 "Beaver" wreck medal; Hudson Bay's St. Lawrence Labrador District 20, 10, 5 and 1 tokens; the Labrador District 20 and 5 tokens; and the Hudson Bay Company's "White Fox" tokens in values of 1, 5, 10, 25, 50 and 100. The Secretary exhibited Canadian I. G. Baker Company brass tokens counterstamped Hudson Bay Company. Unrelated exhibits were by Ray Byrne, David L. Davis, M. Goddy, John S. Kachmar and J. Kennedy. — DR. ROBERT J. HUDSON, Sec.-Treas.

The Sacramento Valley Coin Club held a special dinner meeting on January 9 in the Chuck Wagon of the Country Club Lanes. Seventy-eight members were on hand to enjoy the festivities and to express gratitude to the retiring officers and see the new ones installed. The new officers are, President Lew Walker, replacing Frances Ferederer; Vice President, Charles Willock, replacing Ronald Best; Recording Secretary Marilyn Hahn, replacing Vivian Limbaugh; Corresponding Secretary Fred Weber, replacing Darwin L. "Ace" Reilswig; Treasurer Dorothy Fumal, replacing Mel Miller. Marie Cantrell was reappointed assistant treasurer, Evaline Williams as hostess and Margaret Inslee as historian. Newly appointed are Sergeant at Arms Bill Andrews, Librarian Steve Reynolds, "Ace" Reilswig as Chairman of Education, Georgia Willock as Custodian of the Sunshine Fund. The meeting was given to a review of the last year's activities and projection of coming events and policies. — LEW WALKER, Pres.

Officers of the Worcester County (Mass.) Numismatic Society for 1962 are: President Bruce MacDougall, Vice President Arthur R. Prince, Treasurer Henry E. Geberth, Recording Secretary David Mercier, and Corresponding Secretary John Kittredge.

At the February meeting of Old Capitol (Iowa) Coin Club, these new officers were announced: President, Professor William Gower, Vice President Mrs. Margaret Beuter, Secretary John Miller. The evening's educational program consisted of a lecture and discussion on the coins and "wildcat" notes used in Iowa prior to the Civil War. The thirty-seven members present held a discussion on activities for National Coin Week. It was decided that the Club would donate numismatic books again to the city library. President Gower appointed a committee to arrange for future educational programs, which will include the showing of A.N.A. slide sets. — TED N. WEISSBUCH

At a meeting on January 4, the auction committee of Bakersfield Coin Club and Bakersfield Stamp Club awarded the auction for their three-day affair to the DonLew Co. of Reno and Sacramento. Partly sponsored by the Del E. Webb Corp., the show will be held May 4-6 in that company's Kern City Town Hall, near downtown Bakersfield. This hall provides more than adequate facilities for the thirty dealers and the attendance of over three thousand persons expected. In selecting the auctioneer, the committee was influenced by the DonLew's new and revolutionary "bid board" auction idea. It is believed that everyone will be pleased with this innovation in holding an auction. — LEW WALKER

The Tuscarawas County Coin Club will hold a one day show and auction April 29, as part of its National Coin Week activity, in the Elks Building in New Philadelphia from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., with the auction starting at 1:30 p.m. Meals and parking are available in the immediate area. For further information, write to Bourse Chairman Don Ball, 810 W. High Ave., New Philadelphia, Ohio.

At its annual banquet meeting, Bay Cities Coin Club elected the following officers for 1962: President Lewis Upton, Vice President W. A. Stanley, Treasurer Millicent Fishel, secretary Carolyn Nestrick, and Governors Ben Bleringer, Grace Brainard, Larry Morton and Max Wedertz. Retiring President Ben Bleringer was presented a plaque for outstanding service to the Club at the January meeting. Jim Betton, Jr., gave a talk on tokens of England which proved thought provoking. According to Jim, England started making tokens in the Eleventh Century, and made them off and on until the Nineteenth Century, there being some seventy thousand varieties in all. Only a few hundred of many varieties were struck, yet they are available at modest prices. In 1842, the Bank of England paid a considerable amount of money to redeem these tokens at half face value, yet numismatists bought up many of them, thus explains why so many nice pieces are available today. — E. CAROLYN NESTRICK, Secretary.

The New York Numismatic Club held its 636th meeting December 8 and elected the following 1962 officers: President Charles M. Wormser, Vice President Richard W. Murrie, Secretary-Treasurer Martin F. Kortjohn. The fifty members and guests present heard briefly from Karl Gruppe, the sculptor who designed the Bareford presidential medal for the Club. President Charles Wormser accepted the gavel from Retiring President Harold S. Bareford and presented the November medal for the best exhibit to him. The exhibits for this evening were based on paper money and coins relating to Christmas, coin jewelry, and the "numismatic item which inspired you to become a numismatist." Henry Grunthal was awarded the medal for the best exhibit for his fine collection of Christmas talers. Raphael Solomon, Chairman of the Historical Committee, gave a final report on the history of the Club which has been sent to the printer and is expected to be distributed in February. On motion of Louise Patterson, the office of Historian was created and Raphael Solomon was elected to it. — RICHARD W. MURRIE, Vice Pres.

The Hayward Area Coin Club will hold its ninth annual Coinfair on May 20 at the Labor Temple, 1050 Mattox Rd., Hayward, Cal. It will be open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. General Chairman is Walter Morris. Mail can be sent to the Club at P. O. Box 135, Hayward. Auction catalogs will be available upon request after April 15. — A. E. EVANS, Corr. Sec.

At its December 11 meeting, the Monmouth (N.J.) Coin Club elected these officers for 1962: President, Thomas J. Hogan; Vice President, Andrew Monaghan; secretary, Mrs. Ethyl Monaghan; corresponding secretary, Russell Woolley; treasurer, Mrs. F. Luckel; sergeant at arms, Irving Carol. The new president was in charge of finance at our Coinvention at Asbury Park last November at which a profit of $180 was reported. Plans for our second show are underway. — RUSSELL WOOLLEY, Corr. Sec.

In spite of a flu epidemic in the area, more than half of the members of KERA Coin Club (Ravenswood, W. Va.) attended the February meeting and enjoyed the Medallist Art Company film "Let's Take a Trip." We have secured exhibits from the Chase Manhattan Bank's Money Museum and from the American Express Company for showing during National Coin Week. We are also getting the help of the retail merchants in promoting our Spring Coin Shower to be held on April 29. On April 28 there will be a parade and selection of a beauty queen, Miss Coins and Currency, who will present the awards for exhibits at the show. There will be an award for the best exhibit of U. S. coins and currency, and one for the best foreign coins and currency exhibit. A silver trophy will go to the best of show exhibit. —

Willard Riley was elected President of the KERA Coin Club of Ravenswood, West Virginia, at its first anniversary meeting. Other 1962 officers are Vice President Fred Painter, Secretary Mara Lee Roosh, Treasurer Wes Reuben, Directors Lloyd Barden and Ken Cole. We welcome visitors to our monthly meetings the fourth Sunday afternoon at KERA House on State Route 2 south of Ravenswood.

The Muncie Coin & Stamp Club held its fifth annual show in the Armory in Muncie, Ind., on January 28, with an attendance of over 1500 persons. Out of the very excellent exhibits, the following were chosen as winners: best-in-show, Fred Clafey, Indianapolis; first in originality, James Walsmith, Dunkirk; first in general exhibits, Carl Simons, Indianapolis; first in U. S. coins and second general exhibits, Edward Lee, South Bend; second in U. S. coins, Myron Huffman, Fort Wayne; first in foreign coins, Noel Hutchens, Kokomo; second in foreign coins and second in originality, Victor Sandlin, Fort Wayne; third in U. S. coins and first in both U. S. and foreign stamps, John Shaffer, Fort Wayne. In the junior division, first in U. S. coins went to Norman A. Talbert, Muncie; first in both U. S. and foreign stamps to Myron Huffman, Fort Wayne, and second in U. S. stamps, Linda Clines, Muncie. This Club, which meets the second Monday evening each month in the YWCA, is making preparations for holding the 1963 convention of Indiana State Numismatic Association. It will be in the newly remodeled Student Center of Ball State Teachers College. — MRS. MARY ALICE TALBERT, Corr. Sec.

The Indianapolis Coin Club held its first meeting of the year in new and more spacious quarters, the Mural Room of Indiana State Teachers Building. Ward Hicks presented a program on "The History of Coinage," which he illustrated with shells, beads, silver and copper bars, weights, weapons, tools and clay tablets which the ancients used for money. Most of these objects were found in tombs and predate our earliest coins. He also exhibited his collection of round coins of China, from 70 B. C. — CLAUDE E. TYNDALL, Corr. Sec.

At a meeting in Marysville, Ohio, on January 27, four Ohio clubs joined forces to form the Central Buckeye Coin and Stamp Association. The Association was formed to promote interest and cooperation among clubs, fellowship between individuals, and to afford all collectors a better opportunity to learn about and enlarge their numismatic and philatelic interest. Membership is open to other clubs, which can obtain information by writing the Association at P. O. Box 42, Prospect, Ohio. The four charter organizations are: Delaware County Coin and Stamp Club, Delaware; Union County Coin and Stamp Club, Marysville; Logan County Coin Club, Bellefontaine, and Marion Coin, Stamp and Hobby Club, Marion. Plans call for an annual exhibition during June or July, with nationally known dealers in a bourse to represent each field of collecting. The 1962 affair will be held at St. Mary's Gym in Delaware, June 29-July 1. Those interested in bourse or exhibit space should write to the Association at P. O. Box 42, Prospect, Ohio. Meetings will be held the second Saturday monthly at the Union County Court House in Marysville. Elected officers are President H. H. Henke, Vice President Earl Sheppard, Secretary Dorothy Desgranges, Treasurer Home Viers. Wendell Morningstar was named General Chairman. — DOROTHY DESGRANGES, Sec.

The twenty-fifth annual Banquet of Racine Numismatic Society will be held April 28, 1962 at St. Johns Nepomuk Church, Yout and Green Sts., Racine, Wis. With the adjoining new ten thousand square feet in the auditorium, we will have ample space for the largest banquet to date. The bourse and exhibit space will open at 10:30 a.m.; there will be an auction at 3:00 p.m.; and our famous family style dinner at 6:30 p.m. — the latter at only $3.00 per person. Reservations for bourse tables should be made promptly with Ralph M. Parker, 2615 Ole Davidson Rd., Racine. The price is only $15, which includes one dinner ticket. Exhibitors may reserve cases or space by writing to Bill Spencer at 1524 Oregon St., Racine. The Society invites collectors to its meetings at the Catholic Youth Center, Fifth and College, the second Thursday evening monthly. — RALPH PARKER, Bourse Chm.

Forty-five members and guests at the January 28 meeting of City of Lakes Coin Club, LaPorte, Ind., enjoyed the premier showing of A.N.A. slides of "Misstruck Cents, 1897-1961." The accompanying notes and excellent photography make this set a delight to all coin collectors. Tom Nolan had the only exhibit at the meeting, a two-note sheet of Michigan obsolete notes on the back of which was printed the menu of a numismatic banquet held in Los Angeles in 1939. Tom reported that the bylaws recommendations would be in the hands of the officers before the February 25th meeting. — J.T.N.

John E. Borhek of Berkley, Mich., was elected and installed as president of Royal Oak Coin Club. Other officers are Vice President Raymond Tessier, Treasurer Robert Rowswell, Secretary Doris M. Peters. — DORIS M. PETERS, Sec.

Recently elected officers of the Greensburg (Penna.) Coin Club are President Joseph Breyer, Vice President Earl Lindh, Treasurer John Miller, Recording Secretary Chester Kolk. — HAZEL BREYER, Corr. Secretary.

The Kaiserslautern Coin Club meets the first and third Tuesday monthly at the Vogelweh Service Club in Germany. At the February 6 meeting, Larry Degenhart spoke on the coins and paper money of the French Revolution, with emphasis on the inscriptions on such pieces. President Cofling gave an illustrated talk on Chinese and Japanese numbering systems, and how to interpret dates on these coins. Secretary Neal Cohen, a junior member, gave an interesting account at the February 20 meeting on acquiring coins from all over the world by correspondence. We are planning observance of National Coin Week at the local Amerika Haus. — COURTNEY L. COFLING, Pres.

At the February meeting of North East Ohio Coin Club, President George Dorrian announced that the Club has been incorporated. Don Decker showed his slides of pattern coins. We meet the third Tuesday monthly at the Tudor Arms Hotel in Cleveland. — JOAN HALLIWELL, Rec. Sec.

Thirty members and a few guests enjoyed the second auction of Yonkers Coin Club at the February 21 meeting. An uncirculated 1909-S VDB cent brought $140. The Club now has forty members. Other collectors in the area may obtain information about it by writing or calling the writer at the Gramatan Coin Shop, 76 Gramatan Ave., Mt. Vernon, N. Y. — FRANK MORRA, SR., Corr. Sec.

Two innovations and a scheduled talk made for a most interesting meeting of the Pittsburgh Numismatic Society on February 22 at the K. of C. Hall. A system of exhibiting was instituted in which each participant has a chance at the prize regardless of the size or value of his exhibit. Five members exhibited, and we are sure that there will be more at future meetings. Prosper DeVos, activities chairman, handled a seven-lot "auctionette" of better than usual items. Ray Byrne gave a talk, illustrated by color slides and an exhibit of the coins themselves, on "Coinage of the West Indies." — HARRY C. BARTLEY, Numis. Corr.

Principal Ralph L. Duplin recently announced the formation of the Numismatic Society of the Winthrop (Mass.) Senior High School. In addition to exchanging coins and ideas, the student members are setting up a permanent numismatic library for the use of the entire school. The group plans to assemble a small coin collection to be used in the classrooms by teachers when they are teaching related subjects. Miss Viva M. Blackburn, head of the Social Studies Department, is faculty advisor. Student officers are: president, Michael J. Baron; vice president, Roger Paquin; secretary, David Robbins; treasurer, Robert Skomro; and librarian, David De Gaust. — MICHAEL J. BARON, Pres.

The year-old Athens (Ga.) Coin Club now has over fifty members and meets the first Wednesday monthly in the Athens Federal Building. Programs are planned to encourage and help the junior members, and meetings are restricted to two hours, beginning at 7:30 p.m. Officers elected for 1962 include: president, Milton B. Smith; vice presidents, Jackson Bennett and Harold Milby; secretary, James D. King; treasurer, B. B. Epps; and board members, R. E. Fain and C. S. Mangleburg. — JACK BENNETT, Vice Pres.

Highlight of the February meeting of Cincinnati Numismatic Association was a talk by Marvin Fessenden on "Exhibiting Numismatic Materials." The following officers were installed: president, Sol Kaplan; vice president, Leroy Smith; treasurer, Walter Broker; secretary, Gordon Duvall; governor, Julian Marks; curator and sergeant-at-arms, Jack Meagher. — GORDON DUVALL, Sec.

The North Dade Coin Club has recently been formed in the Miami, Fla., area, and is holding meetings the first and third Monday evenings monthly in the City Hall in the Carol City Shopping Center. Elected to office are the following: president, Theo. H. Miller; educational vice president, Marty Green; administrative vice president, William Quirias; secretary, Robert Hundedadt; treasurer, Louis Bobb; sergeant-at-arms, William Grayson; and committeeman-at-large, Ernest Fredericks. Guests will be welcomed, whether they be beginners or advanced numismatists, and applications for membership are being accepted. — THEO. H. MILLER, Pres.

The Louisville Coin Club membership was increased by five at the February 18 meeting when the Bob Elliot family joined en masse. Bobby, 12, started collecting coins and then Susan, 9, and Debby, 7, took up the hobby. Father Bob brought the children to club meetings and helped them as much as possible. He found that coin collecting is contagious and Mrs. Elliot says she had to get interested "out of self defense." So the former hobbies of raising tropical fish and collecting match books have been overshadowed by coin collecting. The family is planning a display for the Kentucky State convention in Owensboro April 20-22. The Club will encourage family participation by a "family plan" membership at reduced rate dues.

The Monterey Park (Cal.) Coin Club ended its sixth successful year and started the new year off in a happy manner with a Christmas party attended by seventy-five members and friends. A pot luck dinner was served by members, Santa Claus brought gifts to all, and Ruth van Rossen played piano and led in singing Christmas carols. Dave Haegele installed the following 1962 officers: Cliff Kreisel, president; Olin Carter, vice president; T. H. Weber, treasurer; Vera Schymos, corresponding secretary; Edith Benson, recording secretary; Millie Park, sergeant at arms; and governors Dave Haegele, Bob Northwood, David Pike, Paul Schymos and Dan Silverman. — VERA SCHYMOS, Corr. Sec.

The Monterey Park (Cal.) Coin Club held its meeting at the Service Center on February 23, with eighty-five members and guests present. Display awards went to R. B. Carter for a set of Lincoln cents from circulation, to A. Houston Barry for his peace dollars, and to Dave Haegele for a display and enlarged photographs showing details of the 1961-D "bush cent." Five new members admitted and six new applications bring our membership to 234.

The Firelands Coin Club, Norwalk, Ohio, held open house to the public at its February 26 meeting. We were pleased to have one of our organizers and charter member C. C. Shroyer, President of A.N.A., as guest speaker. "Tim" told of the many advantages of being a member of A.N.A., and answered questions from the floor. There were forty-six members and thirty guests present, and nine members had exhibits which were enjoyed by all. We welcome visitors to all of our meetings the fourth Monday evening monthly at the American Legion Home. — E. F. STOTTS, A.N.A. Rep.

Vice President Wayne Dennis conducted the February meeting of Torrance Coin Club in the absence of President Richard Goodson who is recuperating from a recent heart attack. Of the fifteen guests present, S. M. Durrett of the Tulsa Coin Company came the greatest distance. Our guest speaker was Bill Day, representative of the Central Safe and Vault Company. He showed slides about different safes and their construction, and pointed out different features one should consider when purchasing either a money or file safe. Among these are the heat resistance, construction, size, difference in insurance premiums and the best places for installation. He was presented a "Certificate of Appreciation" for having taught us a lot about safes. — MRS. VIRGINIA H. DENNIS, Corr. Sec.

The 320th meeting of Philadelphia Coin Club was held February 20 at the John Bartram Hotel. Co-Chairman Bob Ferris of the 1962 MANA convention told of plans for the affair which will be held on the top floor of the Bel View Stratford Hotel, October 19-21. Sam Burgdorf, an active member of our Club, related some of his experiences as a member of the 1962 Assay Commission. He served as Chairman of the Counting Committee at the recent meeting at the Philadelphia Mint. Exhibits were highlighted by Burgdorf's Assay Commission medal; James Wobensmith's excellent collection of tokens, several being of the Philadelphia area; and two uncut sheets of 1780 Rhode Island Colonial currency by the secretary. — THOMAS E. WERNER, Sec.

The February 16 meeting of Waco YMCA Youth Coin Club was attended by thirteen boys and the dads of three, the dads seeming to enjoy the program as much as the young members. Several boys gave reports on their most interesting coins, and why they selected the particular coin. With the three adults as judge, Jim Lee won the prize consisting of five S mint cents of 1911-14. Jim's story was of his bronze Roman coin depicting Jupiter as God of State armed against the national enemy, and giver of victory, conservator and deliverer of the emperor from imminent danger. — KAL-VART K. TIDWELL, Club Sponsor

Leo M. Thomas was re-elected president of the Ashland (Ohio) Stamp & Coin Club at the February 20 meeting. Other officers chosen are: George Slabie, vice president; Mrs. Harold Oyster, secretary; and Shelby Edwards, treasurer. The coin show, held at the Terrace Hotel on February 3-4, was considered an outstanding success, with special credit going to T. T. Moore, R. R. Bennighof and President

Thomas. Registration reached a total of 534. Best of show award went to Dean Majors of Mansfield for his four-case exhibit of "Coins and Their Alloys," complete sets of buffalo nickels and peace dollars mounted on custom boards containing relief carvings, and "Interesting Bits of Facts." Our meetings are held the first and third Tuesdays monthly. The Club's mailing address is P. O. Box 124, Ashland, Ohio. — MRS. HAROLD OYSTER, Sec.

The feature of the January meeting of the Buffalo Numismatic Association was the showing of A.N.A. slides on private gold coins. Attendance was good and interest shown in the subject resulted in a long meeting. Jesse Taylor's excellent display of private gold coins of California supplemented the slide showing. — READ WOODWORTH, Sec.

Following a bout with hospitalization and two operations, President Ray Lefman conducted his first meeting of Kansas City's Heart of America Numismatic Association on February 19, with 115 members and nine visitors present. He appointed committees for the annual coin show to be held November 23-25, of which he and Ralph Bondon will be co-chairmen. With their experienced and faithful staff on the job, we are assured of another outstanding show. Announcement was made that the 1964 Central States convention will be held in Kansas City, and a committee was named to head this event. Jack Klausen's educational program, including films presented by Felix Cannatella, will feature the Club's 1962 meetings. Hart Mayer heads a committee for the observance of National Coin Week. A life membership in A.N.A. was presented to Buford Ellis in appreciation of his hard work as president during the past two years. We discussed the recent revival of a 135-year-old Missouri "blue law" which bans Sunday sales of "nonessentials." It is not clear at this time what effect this will have on weekend coin shows and meetings at which coins are sold. The third Monday evening of the month is roundup time at HANA, and visiting numismatists are cordially invited to attend. — RALPH O. FRITTS, Corr. Sec.

The Shreveport Coin Club will be host to the semiannual convention of Louisiana State Numismatic Association at the Washington-Youree Hotel in Shreveport, April 14-15. The auction will be conducted by James Herndon of Magnolia, Ark. At the Club's February 15 meeting, the following officers were reelected by acclamation for 1962: president, Wayne W. Davis; vice president, T. P. Hatfield; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Gay Cook; directors, George M. Agurs, chairman, Frank H. Kappen, James E. Herndon, Henry J. Cangelose and Joseph Notini. George Agurs, 256 Columbia Ave., Shreveport, is the General Chairman of the convention and will be glad to furnish information to anyone regarding bourse tables, exhibits, housing, etc. — HENRY J. CANGELOSE, Pub. Chm.

The Port City Coin Club of Muscatine, Iowa, announces its annual coin auction and one day meeting will be held at the YWCA, Third and Sycamore Sts., April 29. An auction of a hundred and fifty lots will begin at 1:15 p.m. Bourse tables are $7.50 each and may be reserved by writing Bourse Chairman George Lohman, 2806 Cedar St.

The Lawndale Coin Club held its first meeting in the Del Aire Improvement Association Building, 119th St. and Aviation Blvd., Hawthorne, Cal., February 18. One hundred members and twelve guests heard Mrs. Ida Mae Griffin speak on "Collecting from Circulation." She told us that since she started collecting in 1950 she has completed a set of Lincoln cents, Buffalo five cents, Mercury dimes, Standing Liberty and Washington quarters. During this time she found nine 1909-S VDB cents, eight 1914-D cents and six 1916-D dimes. — JACK PROTAY, Corr. Sec.

With an attendance of ninety-five, the Lawndale (Calif.) Coin Club held its thirty-second meeting on January 21. Our donated auction brought $7.45 into a charity fund which we are raising. Principal speaker of the evening was Leroy Borchardt and his topic was "The Honorable Lincoln Cent." He first gave a biographical sketch of designer Victor D. Brenner and the reason for the appearance of this cent. He also spoke of the 1955 double die cent and gave an explanation of the "Lincoln ghost" cents. His explanation of the popularity of this coin is that it's the first one that children get and is the easiest for everyone to obtain. Members present signed a "get well" card for Richard Goodson who is recovering from a heart attack. Our meetings are held the third Sunday monthly at the Western Cafe in Gardena. — JACK PROTAY, Corr. Sec.

The members of Allegheny-Kiski Valley Numismatic Society will sponsor a two-day coin show on May 26-27 at the Hotel Edna, New Kensington, Pa. The Club's secretary-treasurer is general chairman and welcomes reservations for bourse tables and exhibits. His address is 1149 Ross Ave., New Kensington, Pa. Included in the door prizes to be awarded at the close of the show is a Saint-Gaudens Indian Head type set of gold coins. Five new members accepted at the January 11 meeting brings the Club's membership to 123, with ten additional applications pending. In the recently completed membership drive, which brought twenty new members to our meetings, Ray Lyle was awarded an uncirculated set of wartime Lincoln cents. We welcome visitors to our meeting the second Thursday monthly at the East Kensington Community Circle Bldg., Seventh St. Road. — RADION A. LITVINOVICH, Sec.-Treas.

The December 8 meeting of Whittier (Cal.) Coin Club was attended by eighty members and guests. The following officers for 1962 were elected: president, W. V. Tracy; vice president, Thomas Murphey; treasurer, Vincent Wirth; recording secretary, Mrs. Betty Nelson; corresponding secretary, Edith Benson; and directors, Sol Taylor, David Haegele, Milt Grossman, Don Tovey and incumbent president John Coll. Exhibits were by David Haegele and Walter Holzworth. We welcome visitors to our meetings the second Friday monthly. — EDITH BENSON, Corr. Sec.

ADVERTISERS PLEASE NOTE ALL FOLLOWING CONDITIONS

All correspondence relating to advertising should be addressed to the Advertising Manager, S. W. Freeman, P. O. Box 591, Newport, Ark. Make all remittances payable to the American Numismatic Association.

No advertising accepted from minors.

Advertising Contracts: These are available, covering periods of three, six and twelve consecutive months for display space as listed in the above Table of Rates, and are necessary if the schedule of reduced rates is to apply. If the advertiser prefers not to accept the Contract, such reduced rates will be granted only upon payment in advance for the period desired.

References: All advertisers who submit copy for the first time are definitely requested to furnish therewith banking or other satisfactory references.

Available Space Units: Practical considerations restrict the allocation of space units to those listed in the above table. Any amount of space (subject to any current limitation) is available IF these units or a combination of them are used. Unless contrary instructions are given, copy will be cut if found too full for the space designated; if no designation is made, it shall be understood the amount of space is left to the discretion of the Advertising Manager.

Unless under contract, smaller units than one-half page accepted subject to available space in desired issue.

Deadline: Copy must be received by the Advertising Manager by the 5th of the month to insure insertion in the following month's issue.

Illustrations: All cuts to be provided by the advertisers, care being used to see that they do not exceed in measurement the limits of the space unit desired. The Advertising Manager, when absolutely necessary, will have engravings made from furnished photographs, at national rates, to be paid for by advertiser.

We cannot accept mats or stereos.

Miscellaneous: Please furnish copy separately from your letter of transmittal. Advertising copy included in the body of a letter usually has to be retyped for the printer; this should not be required. Mail Bid Sales listing not acceptable. It is also the policy of the magazine to limit its advertisements to those of numismatic character.

Preparation of Copy: Advertising copy should be prepared with minute care. Carelessness invites error — something which both advertiser and publisher are anxious to avoid. Use only one side of the sheet. Send originals, not carbon copies. Use only paper of good quality, and not of extremely light weight. All copy must be typed, no handwritten accepted.

In the absence of an Advertising Contract, when payment in advance for any number of consecutive months has been made, if change of copy has not been received by the 7th of the month for the next issue, the latest preceding advertisement will be run.

Advertisers may use a trade name, but, except in the case of an incorporated concern, the name of the proprietor or some other responsible person connected with the firm must also appear in the advertisement.

The right to edit copy, to require payment in advance, and to decline any advertisement is specifically reserved.

EXTRAORDINARY ANNOUNCEMENT

It is with considerable pride and pleasure that we announce we will feature at the PUBLIC AUCTION SALE in conjunction with the

METROPOLITAN NEW YORK NUMISMATIC CONVENTION

April 26 - 29, 1962

The Outstanding Award Winning Half Dollar Collection Formed by

R. E. Cox, Jr., Fort Worth, Texas

This collection, consisting solely of United States Half Dollars is absolutely complete in all regular issues and is the largest and most comprehensive collection from 1792 thru 1961 ever offered to the collecting fraternity.

Commensurate with the magnitude of the above, several outstanding consignments as outlined below, will be included in the sale:

COLONIAL AMERICANA

A select group of choice Colonial coins including Oak Tree Shillings, Chalmer Shilling, and other important and interesting items.

HALF CENTS

A superb collection featuring a 1796 with Pole, and an unusually fine selection of Proof Half Cents from 1831 thru 1857.

LARGE CENTS

Many choice varieties from 1793 thru 1857. Quite a few are red uncirculated.

MINOR COINAGE

Complete sets of Small Cents, Two Cents, Three Cents in Silver and Nickel and Nickel Five Cents, almost all of which are Uncirculated and Proof.

HALF DIMES

A most complete offering which includes one of the finest known examples of the 1794 and 1800. Most of this set is uncirculated and Proof.

DIMES

A virtually complete collection of Dimes from 1796 to date, and includes many scarce and rare coins seldom offered. Rich in Uncirculated and Proof.

QUARTER DOLLARS

Just about a complete set from 1796 to date. Many early coins in exceptional condition. The major portion of the collection is uncirculated and proof.

HALF DOLLARS (Cox Collection)

A superb offering from 1794 to date. Exceptionally rich in varieties, and includes such rarities as 1796, 1797, 1838-O, 1847/46, 1853-O WITHOUT ARROWS and RAYS, etc. Over 100 patterns in this series are also included. This collection is absolutely complete, with virtually every coin uncirculated and/or proof.

SILVER DOLLARS

An unusually fine offering from 1795 thru 1935. Many of the coins to be offered are exceptionally choice uncirculated and proof. Scarce mint-marks included.

UNITED STATES GOLD COINS

A comprehensive offering from the $1.00 thru the $20.00. Many outstanding condition coins. Featuring a virtually complete set of the $1.00 Gold. Early gold coins too numerous to list in this limited space.

The illustrated catalog in the usual Stack tradition is now available. Order your copy together with the list of the prices realized at this important sale now for only $1.00. After the sale—if available, the price will be $5.00.

CAPITAL COIN HOLDER

CAPITAL holders are truly the ultimate in coin display. You are justly proud of your coins, and you will be more than delighted when you see them housed in CAPITAL display holders. They are economical too, providing a most luxurious setting for your favorite sets at the lowest cost consistent with highest quality.

ALL CAPITAL holders are made of Plexiglas, the lifetime plastic which will never fade or discolor. Each holder is made of three pieces of Plexiglas, the outer pieces being transparent, and the center piece in beautiful blue, red, or green transparent, jet black or milk white. All holders are titled in gold.

Proof Set Holder No. 11

Dated or Plain. Your Choice of Colors

Price $1.75, postpaid

The coin openings are tapered and carefully sized to insure accurate fit of coins. Each holder is assembled with a generous quantity of plastic screws. The Proof Set holder is held with 6 screws.

Large stocks of holders are carried to insure speedy delivery, but some colors are occasionally out of stock. If alternate colors are given, you can be assured of quick delivery. All holders are match marked at the edge for ease of re-assembly.

ALL CAPITAL PRODUCTS ARE UNCONDITIONALLY GUARANTEED.

CAPITAL PLASTICS, INC., now offers you genuine three-piece Plexiglas holders for series of coins, types, gold and other sets, with each opening fully described—this new series to be known as PAO holders (printed at openings).

And listen to this, these high quality PAO holders are offered at prices you would expect to pay for conventional holders. Construction, quality, attention to detail—and prompt shipment—have become bywords with CAPITAL, and you will find that our new line of PAO holders is no exception to the rule.

The following holders are now in stock in BLACK OR WHITE, for immediate delivery. NO special arrangements of dates or titles are available. Dates, varieties and descriptions are as listed in the 15th edition of the Red Book.

hobby dealer

WHITMAN PUBLISHING COMPANY, Racine, Wis.
WORLD'S LEADING NUMISMATIC PUBLISHERS

This yearly revised reference book answers the many questions asked by novice and advanced collectors. It is the most helpful guide for buying and selling all U.S. coins giving up-to-date prices that coin dealers are paying. Besides complete mint records and enlarged illustrations of mint marks, you'll find information about grading, preserving and storing of coins. Even a special section for people starting a collection is included.

Coin Collectors throughout the U.S. are acclaiming the BRAND NEW HUDGEONS E-Z SEAL HOLDER. Without a doubt here is the neatest, quickest, easiest to use holder, in Coin Collecting History.

Whether you are little or big in the coin world, the Hudgeons E-Z Coin Holder will save you time and money. You simplify all phases of collecting from filing to display . . . and your collection will increase in value with use of the E-Z Seal Holder.

E-Z Seal Holders are precision die cut from heavyweight stock, featuring a specially developed pressure sensitized adhesive that seals tight with only light finger pressure. Your coin is completely enclosed between 2 crystal clear windows and affords complete obverse, reverse and edge viewing and holds firm where placed in holder.

No staples, glue, tools or tape are necessary to enclose all size coins, neat, firm, fast!

E-Z SEAL provides for collector or dealer a completely enclosed holder which can be mailed with confident assurance that your coin can not be removed without destroying the holder. Once a coin is enclosed it is literally protected for the life of the holder.

This precision designed holder will protect your rare dates or complete collections against common circulating wear and tear.

E-Z SEAL VISUAL HOLDERS are available in strips of five. Each strip contains 4 holders for coins up to "Quarter Size" and 1 holder in "Half Dollar Size." Each type holds coins of any size up to maximum circumference. 1¢ to 50¢ holders are standard 2" x 2" size.

"Dollar Size" E-Z SEAL HOLDERS are available individually and are 2 1/2" x 2 1/2" square. Fits any size coin including Silver Dollar, Double Eagle and Foreign Crowns.

Buy one size for your entire collection!

70% CASH ADVANCE

THAT'S RIGHT ! ! ! ! We will advance 70% of the fair retail value of your collection immediately upon receipt. We will then sell your collection at one of our forthcoming auction sales and you will receive your final settlement within 30 days after the sale. Our commission rates are always reasonable.

During the time that your coins are in our possession they are stored in our protected and insured vaults. When you receive your advance check, if for any reason you are not satisfied with the amount of the check, just return it and your coins will be returned postpaid.

In many cases our advance will be almost equal to others offer of outright purchase.

If you are not currently on our mailing list, just drop us a postcard with your full name and address and we will place your name on our catalogue mailing list.

REMEMBER — It is not too late to have your collection included in our next outstanding auction sale.

OUR SALES ARE USUALLY HELD IN THE PARKER HOUSE

We are always in need of desirable numismatic material and will be happy to travel anywhere in the world to acquire it — either for auction or for outright purchase provided the value of the material warrants it.

NO COLLECTION IS TOO LARGE — We will furnish bank references upon request.

EXTRAORDINARY

CONFEDERATE OPPORTUNITIES

CHOICE RARE • TREASURY NOTES

The group of items offered below affords an exceptional opportunity to acquire Confederate Treasury notes of great variety in superb condition. As discriminating collectors know, such material — of high enduring value — seldom comes on the market. The pieces offered have been selected from my own collection, assembled over many years. The prices are believed to be more realistic in reflecting rarity of each type of note and its scarcity in truly splendid condition.

However, a few reminders are in order. Practically all notes issued in those long-past Civil War days saw at least some usage — no one was collecting them then. Notes of the lower denominations and on softer papers naturally suffered the most from wear and tear. Unless folding is mentioned, it should be considered absent, or slight and not detrimental to the appearance or quality of the note. Also the colored inks used in printing certain of the notes were deficient in lasting qualities. Consequently a degree of aging, fading or discoloration during the past 100 years may be found in some of the best surviving Treasury notes.

Where desirable for clarity, list numbers according to my book, Confederate Treasury Notes, also Criswell's book, appear in that order in ().

Item No.		The Montgomery Notes		Price
1	$50	The first, dramatic ones, printed in New York — a source soon shut off.		450.00
2	$100	Three Negroes in field. Note #955		450.00
3	$500	Railroad train, station. Note #913		1,500.00
4	$1000	Cattle in brook. Note #144		1,500.00
		Jackson, Calhoun. Note #88
		The word most closely describing every one of these crisp, brilliant notes is "perfect." Singly, they are gems; together they are a magnificent "museum."
5		I shall hold these four together a little while for the one who wants the set at		3,700.00
		The First Richmond Notes
6	$50	Commerce and Industry		90.00
7	$100	Railroad train, river		90.00
		These are the same brilliant top grade as the Montgomery notes, above.
		July 25, 1861 Issue
8	$5	"Manouvrier." Note #H1761. Really choice, has retained the blue tint .. The following five Items of Notes were lithographed by Hoyer and Ludwig, Richmond, and are distinguished for being the first printed within the Confederacy. Most of them had hard usage. Here are the scarcest:		350.00
9	$5	Liberty, eagle and scroll. The rare letter "B." Fresh, superb (107A-T11/42)		375.00
10	$5	Same, but letter "Bb." Fresh, equally superb (107B-T11/44)		300.00
11	$100	Ceres and Prosperina, "for" printed, letter "C." Fresh, superb (112A-T7/10)		60.00
12	$100	Same, except "for" written; also superb (112B-T7/13)		60.00
13	$100	Ceres and Prosperina, large upper "10's, letter B, "for" before "Treasr" written. Superb, a bright, clean note (112E-T7/9)		175.00
		The much higher degree of rarity of such letter "B" notes than those of Items 12 and 13 follows from the fact that less than one-seventh as many were issued.
		September 2, 1861 Issue
14	$2	Confederacy Striking Union, extra fine, slight paper aging (113-T38/286)		150.00
15	$5	Group of five females, bright extra fine (114-T31/244)		60.00
16	$5	Blacksmith and boy, brilliant, superb (115-T32/246)		150.00
		The rare notes of Items 17 and 18 are companion notes. They were lithographed from the same stone, both letter "Ab." Most existing notes show considerable wear and tear.
17	$5	"Indian Princess." Fine appearing though has small holes. Extra fine (118-T35)		700.00
18	$10	Liberty, shield and eagle. Bright, superb, unc. (126A-T27/221)		1,200.00
19	$10	Liberty, shield and eagle (re-engraved) Letter "A10." Almost unc. (126B-T27/223)		1,100.00
20	$10	Indian family group. Brilliant, unc. (121-T22/151)		60.00
21	$10	Wagon load of cotton. Bright, unc. (122-T23/153)		80.00
22	$10	R. M. T. Hunter and child. Bright, about unc., with the rarest watermark "N Y". (123-T24/167)		90.00
23	$20	Commerce, Ceres, Navigation. A choice note. (130A-T17/99)		85.00
24	$20	Same, but "for" is written before both "Register" and "Treasr". (130B-T17/100)		225.00
		This variety is over ten times scarcer than that of Item 23 which has both words "for" printed.
25	$20	Navigation beside globe. Bright, unc. (132-T19)		250.00
26	$50	Railroad train, bright, unc. (136-T15)		250.00
		The same quantity was issued of each of the above two notes, from the same plate.

If you are willing to take specimens not so near perfect as those above listed, a number of them I can furnish in fine to extra fine condition — of course, appropriately lower priced. All notes are guaranteed genuine. Your satisfaction of quality or prompt return will bring refund of price. TERMS: Cash, postage and insurance extra.

PRESIDENTIAL ART MEDALS

Two series of high quality, finely sculptured medals are currently available in the original Presidential Art medals program: the Presidential series and the Statehood series. In the Presidential series one medal is struck in honor of each president. The Statehood series commemorates each of the fifty states.

Medals in both series have won wide acclaim for their fine sculpturing, originality, and for the likeness to the individual they honor. President Kennedy was the first purchaser of the first-in-a-series Kennedy medal. He uses his medals as good will mementos on missions abroad. Specific approval to publicly display this medal has been granted by the White House. Assistance in preparatory research work and participation in dedication ceremonies has also been given by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and Ohio Governor DiSalle.

The high quality that has contributed so much to the prominence of these medals was achieved through the combined skills of the sculptor and the company commissioned to strike the medals. Mr. Ralph J. Menconi is a sculptor internationally recognized for his abilities in full portrait and high relief work. The Medallic Art Company is the only American engraver devoted exclusively to sculptured bas-relief.

Each medal is struck in platinum, silver and bronze. Platinum and silver medals are serially numbered and of limited issue. A limit has not been placed on the production of bronze medals as yet . . . they are still available at the original issue price of $2.50 each. To date, medals have been struck of Presidents Kennedy, Lincoln, Washington and F. D. Roosevelt. In the Statehood series, only the first-in-a-series Ohio medal is currently available. You can see all of these medals at your local coin shop or you can get complete information by writing to Presidential Art Medals, Inc.

THE NUMISMATIC REVIEW

The catalogues for the April Coin Galleries Mail Bid Sale have already been sent out and should be in your hands by now. The collector will find a wide variety of offerings to attract him. While there are many choice individual Ancient and Modern pieces, there are also coins in lots, particularly in the Canadian series. In addition there is a nice run of U. S. Half Dollars and other coins. We ask those who plan to bid to let us have their Bid Sheets as soon as possible. Anyone who has not received a copy of this catalogue will be sent one if they ask for it.

The DAG HAMMARSKJÖLD MEDAL THE FIRST IN A DISTINGUISHED SERIES THE "HEROES OF PEACE"

This dramatic, lifelike sculptured bust of the late U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld looks out with a troubled brow. A great man's concern and knowledge of the world's problems are reflected in this extreme high-relief of Hammarskjöld. He is depicted with an incredible inner realism by the distinguished sculptor, Mr. Philip Kraczkowski.

The reverse side of the medal incorporates a dedication message and a delicately designed "Hero of Peace" plaque.

The House of Shields, Inc. offers exclusively this first in a continuing series of medals, with the sincere feeling that it will be a treasured possession in itself, and, eventually, part of an entire memorable series.

The qualifying factors, such as time and craftsmanship, that go hand in hand to strike a truly artistic medal, make a limited issue and delivery control necessary. Reserve your issue now.

All Limited Issues in Silver (.999 Fine), 1-9/16" diameter, will be serially numbered and sell at $20. Orders received now requesting reserved serial numbers will be honored for the entire series. Bronze medals are 2-3/4" diameter and priced at $5.00. Only 25 Platinum serially numbered, $1500 each.

Dealer inquiries invited.

An important message to all members of the A.N.A.

When you think of selling,

THINK OF EMPIRE FIRST

Empire Coin Company, Inc. offers you:

Experience — Members of the Empire Coin Company staff are experts in all fields of rare coins including United States (including copper, silver, and gold series as well as diverse series such as patterns, territorials, tokens, C.S.A. coins, Hawaiian, colonials, etc.), Canadian, Coins of Great Britain, Crowns and Gold Coins of the World, Ancients, etc. Our research facilities are the finest of any professional numismatic firm.

Record of Success — Empire Coin Company has an unequalled record of buying success. Our records indicate that over 90% of the offers we make for rare coins and collections are accepted . . . offers that were made, in many instances, in competition with many other offers. Our up-to-the-minute knowledge of the numismatic market and our large sales volume enable Empire to pay you top dollar for your numismatic holdings. The large number of fine collections and rarities we have handled speak well for the prices we pay.

Responsibility — By selling your coins by direct sale to Empire you realize the top price immediately for your coins . . . no deferred payments or the indefiniteness of what your coins might realize if offered at auction. We invite you to check our professional and financial references.

When you sell your coins to Empire you will be assured of a fair, pleasant and confidential transaction. Payment to you will be made immediately. If you are considering the sale of your numismatic holdings, contact us. An Empire representative will discuss complete arrangements with you, including a visit to your office or home, if warranted. Thinking of selling? THINK OF EMPIRE FIRST. We will look forward to the possibility of hearing from you.

During the past year, outstanding collections purchased by

included the following:

- Major Lenox R. Lohr. The finest collection of United States pattern coins ever offered for sale in this country. Well over 1,000 different patterns including great rarities and unlisted varieties.
- Edward A. Gilroy. Superb collection of United States large cents including outstanding specimens of 1793, 1799, 1804 and other important dates. General U.S. collection remarkable for the fine preservation of the pieces. Colonial American coins. Crowns and other coins of the world.
- Harold Allard. Collection of U.S. gold coins including $3 rarities, $4, etc.
- Kenneth Fuller. Choice collection of United States large cents, including superb condition pieces and early dates by die varieties.
- Westwood Collection. Complete collection of U.S. cents 1793 to date . . . including all dates after 1816 in Uncirculated or Proof condition. United States pattern coins particularly rich in the works of Gobrecht and Kneass. United States quarter eagles . . . virtually complete in Proof and Uncirculated condition, including branch mint issues. Territorial gold, representing the most important California issues of 1849 to 1855.

And many other fine collections, comprising in their entirety all branches of American numismatics.

In addition, Empire Coin Company, Inc. has a reputation second to none for the outright cash purchase of United States rarities. A few of the outstanding rarities we have had during the past year include: 1894-S Dime, Brilliant Uncirculated with proof-like surface; MCMVII extremely high relief Saint-Gaudens double eagle, one of the finest of the few extant specimens; 1884 trade dollars, Brilliant Proof; 1792 Mint Issues, seven different types including several unique pieces; Gobrecht dollars of 1836, 1838 and 1839 including most of the different varieties of each date; $4 stellars, Brilliant gold proofs of 1879 and 1880; 1793 Chain cents, three different Uncirculated specimens; 1841 quarter eagle, one of America's most desirable gold coins; 1842 Small date quarter, Brilliant Proof, the only specimen to appear on the market within recent years; 1876-CC Twenty-cents, two different Brilliant Uncirculated examples; Brilliant Proof specimens of the 1864-L cent, 1864 Small Motto two-cents and 1867 with rays shield nickel; 1874 Hazeltine C.S.A. cent restrikes in silver and copper; 1787 INIMICA TYRANNIS/GEORGE III New York cent; 1786 New Jersey cent, date under plow beam . . . other American copper, silver and gold rarities too numerous to list here. Bear in mind that these rarities were in our inventory, not on consignment for sale or auction listing.

ANNOUNCING

TWO IMPORTANT NEW SERIES OF COMMEMORATIVE MEDALS

This Spring, we will issue the first medals of two important new commemorative series. Like the superb Gatling Gun Centennial Medal issued by us last year, the beautifully made, richly finished, bronze and silver medals of these new series are certain to rank among the outstanding examples of contemporary medallic art.

Great American Generals

The first issue of this series, the Ulysses S. Grant medal, will be available in May, 1962, followed in June by the Robert E. Lee medal; succeeding issues are to appear quarterly thereafter. These medals, each bearing the subject's portrait magnificently sculptured in high relief, will be a uniform 32mm (approximately 1¼") diameter. Prices: bronze medal, $2; silver (.999) medal, $10.

Naval Battles and Leaders

Like the "Generals" series, this is a continuing program; we plan to strike three "Naval" medals annually. First medal of this series commemorates the famous battle in 1862 of the Monitor and Merrimac; it is scheduled for issue in late spring. All of the high-relief "Naval" medals are to be struck in the popular 2½-inch size. Prices: bronze medal, $3.50; silver (.999) medal, $30.

Sales Policy

To assure their future value, the production of silver medals of each issue will be limited to only 1000 serially-numbered pieces. Because of this very small quantity, in the interest of equitable distribution, not more than two silver pieces of an issue will be sold to any one customer. Serial numbers will be assigned in the sequence in which orders with full payment are received. Purchasers of the first medal of a series will have a priority on the same serially-numbered silver medal of the succeeding issue of that series. Great American Generals and Naval Battles and Leaders medals will be sold direct to collectors, not through dealers.

We are sure you will agree that these limited issues will sell out very quickly and become coveted—and valuable—collector's items; therefore, we urge you to order now and thus avoid the disappointment experienced by many collectors in the cases of several other desirable recent issues, now available only at premium prices.

WAHL COMPANY, N-9, Bogota, New Jersey

SINCE 1940 (A.N.A. 9178) . . .

my specialty has been buying, selling and trading choice U. S. and Canadian coins and paper money, also Colonials, Foreign Silver Dollars and gold.

TRADING . . .

I have one of the largest stocks of copper, nickel, silver and gold coins, also paper money, from which to select for trades. Send me your nice coins or sets, value over $100.00, and let me know the type of coins you want. You will receive best trade I can make, and no deal is complete until we are both satisfied.

PURCHASES . . .

At present, am paying highest prices ever for Silver and Gold Commemorative coins. Let me know if you have a set, part set, or accumulation for sale. Up-to-the-minute quotations on receiving your letter. Or better still, send me your coins by Registered Mail, for my best offer and check, coins to be held for your O.K.

APPROVAL SHIPMENTS . . .

the best and easiest way to build up your collection with nice coins at lowest possible prices. If you can invest $10.00 or more a month in your collection, then we are in business. Enclose $10.00 with list of coins you need, and your first approval shipment will come return mail. If you have no special series in mind, here are a few suggestions:

TYPE SET REGULAR U. S. COINS: One coin of each different design Half Cents to Silver Dollars. Album to hold entire set, if you want.

TYPE SET U. S. GOLD COINS: Types of Gold Dollars to $20 pieces, De Luxe plastic holder with first shipment.

COMMEMORATIVE HALF DOLLARS: Strictly Unc. coins, begin on Type set, continue later for complete set if you want. Albums in stock.

LARGE U. S. PAPER MONEY: Different types or designs, make interesting collection. Each note housed in heavy plastic holder. Fractional Currency types also in stock.

FOREIGN SILVER DOLLARS: Collect these one dollars from each different country, see how many countries you can get. Albums in stock to hold these dollars.

OTHER COINS: We can supply your requirements in all series, but we cannot send on approval until we receive your first $10 payment and list of coins you need.

- Wright & Bale Medal — Second Reverse, (1835-40) Head facing l. Names of the engravers partly removed from the die below. Rev. six line inscription within oak wreath. Tin; 45 mm. Baker 75. About Perfect; considerable proof-like surface. Very scarce $22.50
- Voltaire Medal. (1778) Head to r.; GE. WASHINGTON ER. GENERAL OF THE CONTIN. ARMY IN AMERICA. Rev. Elaborate Military trophy; legend in French around. Bronze; 40 mm. Baker 78. Toned Uncirculated. Struck in Paris, by order of Voltaire, the portrait on this piece is imaginary, no authentic drawing being available at the time in Europe. The first medal issued in honor of Washington, and as such, of the greatest interest! 50.00
- Eccleston Medal. 1805. Splendid bust, in armor, to r.; WEBB on truncation. Rev. Indian standing, within double circle; THE LAND WAS OURS. Legend, around, in three concentric lines. Bronze; 76 mm. Baker 85. Toned Mint State, olive color with traces of red; just about as nice as the day it was made, 157 years ago. Designed and struck by Daniel Eccleston of Lancaster, England, an eccentric of his day, who also collected coins and medals. Eccleston met Washington, and was the First President's guest at Mount Vernon. This superb piece was struck in honest admiration of Washington by Eccleston, which is more than can be said for much of the contemporary junk manufactured and promoted today, 99.9% of which is fabricated for a quick profit to the most gullible (many of whom expect to make money on their acquisitions). 85.00
- The Hero of American Independence. Head r., within olive wreath; WASHINGTON above. Rev. DIED / DEC. 14. / 1799. within laurel wreath; legend around. Copper; 27 mm. Baker 88. Red proof, traces of fingermark tarnish. By Merriam of Boston, and so signed. 7.50
- Ugly Head Medal. Full face bust in civil dress, I.B.G. below; legend around (including fouled-up date of death). Rev. A MAN HE / WAS TO ALL / HIS COUNTRY / DEAR, within olive wreath; eye and rays above. Copper; 38 mm. Baker 89. An early nineteenth century medal, the dies by I. B. Gardiner, which were not used until circa 1860. Red-olive Proof. Very scarce 27.50
- Similar. Somewhat later impression in tin. Mostly brilliant Proof. Almost as rare 22.50
- The Home Medal — Smith's Third Obverse. High relief bust in mantle to l.; GEORGE WASHINGTON. Below bust; F. B. SMITH & HORST N. Y. Rev. Fine view of Mount Vernon; two line inscription below. Tin; 64 mm. Baker 112. Mostly perfect Proof. A large, impressive looking piece! 25.00
- Oval Funeral Medal in Gold. (1800) Military bust to l., within continuous olive wreath, GW below; HE IN GLORY, THE WORLD IN TEARS. OB. D. 14. '99. around; AET. '68 above death date. Struck as a gold oval shell, uniface; 25x29 mm. Baker 169 (who knew of but three specimens, two of which were likewise in gold). Extremely Fine, holed near top (to be worn in the funeral ceremonies held in Boston, shortly after the decease of Washington). Ex Matthew Stickney coll. (he started collecting in 1823), lot 425 of the catalog of his coins sold in 1907 by Henry Chapman; later in the Wayte Raymond, Boyd colls. Of the 5 or 6 examples known today of this established rarity, this one can be identified by the name Samuel March faintly scratched in the obverse field (and even more faintly scratched upon the reverse). Possibly the most famous of the Mortuary medals designed and made by Jacob Perkins of Newburyport, Mass., of which this particular piece (with its exceptional pedigree) may well be the most historically significant. (Confirmation of our thought might be made beyond all shadow of a doubt, if Samuel March could be identified . . . most probably in the Boston Directories of John West, ca. 1798-1803.) A prize for any collection of Americana!.. 875.00
- Complete Silver Set of Lovett's Headquarters series. First obverse: bust in uniform l., coat without buttons; border of shields and spears. All ten reverses: Harlem, White Plains, Chads Ford, Whitemarsh, Valley Forge, Tappan, Morristown, Sufferns, Dobbs Ferry and Newburg. Silver; 27 mm. Baker Nos. 184 to 193 complete. Select Proofs. RRR. 10 Pcs. 275.00
- Complete Copper Set of Lovett's Headquarters series. Second obverse; bust in uniform l., coat with buttons; border of semi-circles and stars. Like the preceding; all ten reverses (as above listed). Copper; 27 mm. Baker 194, etc. Nicely toned Proofs. Like the last set, from the famous Brand collection. Really rare, particularly as a complete set. 10 Pcs. 137.50
- Other Washingtonia in stock. Want-lists, by Baker numbers, solicited.

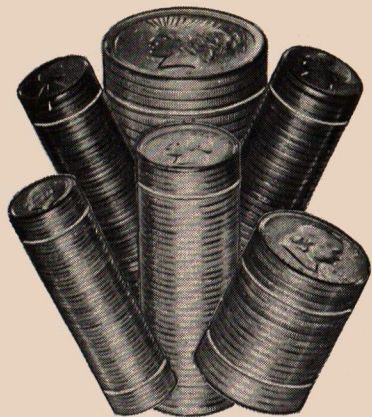

We are the best informed buyers in the U. S., of fine Early American medals, prior to 1860; including material listed by Betts, Indian Peace medals. Mint medals in gold and silver, etc.

IF YOU ARE THINKING OF SELLING YOUR COLLECTION . . .

It will be of advantage to both of us to contact The Montrose Coin Gallery, before selling elsewhere.

Ours is a sincere desire to buy at fair prices, hard to get material in choice condition. For many items we will pay considerably over the prices listed at retail in the 15th edition of the Guide Book.

Our records indicate that we have purchased about 80 percent of the collections offered to us in recent years with satisfaction and cash delivered to the seller on the spot.

We are looking for complete collections of United States coinage or sets. Also of interest to us are single pieces of choice scarce items. We are NOT looking for speculative hoards such as rolls, proof sets, medals, etc.

Please do write NOW, letting us know what you have to offer. If necessary we will travel to your city to inspect your collection if warranted.

All correspondence will be acknowledged.
Our reference is Bank of America, Montrose, California. If you wish to telephone for any information call CHurchill 9-5541 or CHapman 5-9223 or CHapman 5-9224.
If we buy your collection you will be reimbursed for your phone call.

Useful for cleaning all kinds of coins, but particularly adapted to cleaning coins of copper or nickel.

EASY TO USE AND ECONOMICAL!
FAST ACTION — IT ACTUALLY CLEANS IN SECONDS!

Does not add shine, but brings out natural color, including original brilliance if it is still there under tarnish or coating. Dull or dark uncirculated coins become brilliant uncirculated coins in seconds.

This result of years of experiment can be safely used on valuable coins to improve their appearance and increase their value.

On sale in many leading stores in 4-oz. bottles, with full directions, at $1.00.

If your dealer does not yet have it, send us $1.00 for 3-oz. bottle (enough to clean hundreds of coins) carefully packed and postpaid to any address in the United States or Canada.

SPECIAL OFFER TO DEALERS

Send $4.00 for six 4-oz. bottles of "CCC," postpaid.

THE COIN COLLECTOR'S GRADER

ALSO USED BY MANY PROFESSIONAL NUMISMATISTS

I have conducted a series of tests to establish the efficiency of the Visual Grader. I selected six Lincoln Cents ranging from about good through extra fine to correspond to the six grades shown on the grader. These were presented to twelve people ranging in age from eight to seventy-two years, who do not, and have never had any interest or experience in coin collecting. As instructed, without help, they placed each coin in the proper grade.

Of course, this group could not have been so efficient in grading "run of the mill" coins, as a certain amount of common sense and experience is necessary to grade coins with nicks, scratches, corrosion, imperfect strikes, etc. The influence of these defects on grade placement is quite controversial and varies even among experienced collectors and dealers.

Some dealers have not added Visual Graders to their stock of supplies. Perhaps some of these increase their margin of profit by grading the coins which they buy at lower standards than is commonly accepted by collectors and dealers. Whether this is true of any dealer is only speculation but I would be reluctant to buy from or sell to any dealer who does not give a reasonably satisfactory comparison of his buying and selling grades.

The set of Visual Graders contains eighteen enlarged, glossy, double weight, photographic prints for grading cents through half dollars. These graders have been copied but never duplicated. Insist on the genuine, original Visual Grader. Buy from your dealer or order directly from the factory. Price: $3.50—P.P.
